

The British Nigeria Law Forum www.bnlf.org is a professional organisation made up of barristers, solicitors, academics, law students, etc who are based in the UK and Nigeria. Most of our members live and work in England and Wales. In pursuance of our objectives we work with organisations such as the Law Society, Solicitors' Regulation Authority (SRA), Black Solicitors Network and the Bar Council. For example, we are members of the Law Society BME Forum and the Law Society International Division. We are also part of the SRA External Implementation Group.

We welcome the opportunity to respond to LSB consultations and largely support the response of the Law Society to your consultaion document.. The draft equality scheme sets out a number of goals which should in theory address the concerns of our members. However, the success of the scheme will be measured by its implemmentaion. I have nothing further to add at this stage, but on behalf of BNLF I look forward to working with the LSB in the future.

Best wishes,

Babatunde Akinyanju, Chair
