LSB Application Requirement	Case for CLC Regulatory Arrangements Amendment
a. Contact	Victoria Swan, Policy Advisor: victorias@clc-uk.org Tel no: 01245 349599 CLC, 16 Glebe Road, Chelmsford, Essex. CM1 1QG
b. Details of the proposed alteration	In its 'Wider Access' paper the Legal Services Board suggested that Approved Regulators seeking to become Licensing Authorities should give consideration to implementing principles-based regulatory arrangements for the licensing of Alternative Business Structures. The CLC sees the merits of a principles-based approach and is seeking to provide regulatory arrangements that are based upon this. The CLC proposes to replace its existing Rules and Guidance Notes with Codes and Frameworks. Codes are the foundation stones of our regulatory arrangements and set out the regulatory responsibilities of the regulated community. The Code of Conduct is the parent document, with each Code explicitly linked to its Outcomes and Overriding Principles. Wherever possible the Codes are principles-based rather than founded upon prescriptive requirements. Frameworks set out the operating parameters by which the CLC functions e.g. in administering its Compensation Fund, licensing licensed conveyancers etc. Though our current regulatory arrangements seek to deliver positive Outcomes for clients they do not explicitly specify what these outcomes are. Each Code is now introduced with the Outcomes which the regulated community must deliver for their clients in that particular area of activity. The Outcomes the regulatory arrangements seek were informed by the Legal Services Board's consumer engagement exercises.
c. Details of regulatory arrangements:	As the Legal Services Act 2007 requires all Authorised Persons to comply with its Professional Principles it was deemed transparent and consistent for the CLC's regulatory arrangements to be rooted in these. The Code of Conduct's Overriding Principles are derived – though tailored to the Outcomes sought - from the Professional Principles. The

	Code of Conduct [ref. pages 19-27], the parent document of the regulatory arrangements, is devised around 6 Overriding Principles of behaviour which every member of the CLC-regulated community must demonstrate at all times. Compliance with these behaviours should deliver positive Outcomes for Clients. However, many of our current rules remain – though now labelled specific requirements - where considered essential to the delivery of these positive client outcomes. Linking the Code of Conduct with the entirety of the CLC’s regulatory arrangements renders its parent status more explicit and the structure of our regulatory arrangements far more cohesive and transparent i.e. our current Conduct Rules require that all other Rules and Guidance Notes are complied with, but there is little explicit linkage between them. Given that a principles-based regulatory approach is concerned with standards of professional behaviour, the provisions of the current Conduct Rules have been extensively revised, whereas the revision of other rules has been more limited. The draft regulatory arrangements are based around Codes, Guidance and Frameworks. A table of direction is provided in Annex A. Where a document is guidance or an operating framework of the CLC – rather than a regulatory requirement of the CLC-regulated community - it is clearly labelled as this. We have also amalgamated documents so associated requirements are not disparately located e.g. the Accounts Rules, Guidance Notes and Accountant Reports checklists are now found in one document, the Accounts Code & Guidance [ref. pages 28-45]. The proposed CLC Handbook (provided at Annex C) sets out the responsibilities of CLC-regulated bodies through distinct Codes, such as the Accounts Code. It also contains our Enforcement Policy, as well as copies of frameworks under which we operate applicable to the regulated community. Our frameworks (with the exception of the Licensed Body Framework, which is not pertinent to this application as it is dependent upon our Licensing Authority application being approved) are provided at Annex C and D and set out the operating parameters within which we function e.g. in licensing applicants and in training students. All frameworks will be provided in one cohesive Framework document. We do not provide it here as frameworks which are relevant to a member of the regulated community are provided in the Handbook at Annex C and we do not wish to duplicate them in Annex D. NB. Frameworks not provided in the Handbook are those which are relevant prior to an individual or entity being regulated by us e.g. student training and licensing.

	To offer more flexibility in our professional indemnity arrangements requirements we propose to allow an opt-out of the Master Policy. The cover obtained must be from an Authorised Insurer and at least equal in cover to that which would have been provided under the Master Policy. [ref. pages 91-94 & 144] We also propose to remove the annual licence renewal process - though we will still require submission of information relating to individual and practices as well as the payment of regulatory fees on an annual basis – as we judge this to represent a better allocation of our resources, allowing us to concentrate on identifying and managing risk, rather than on administrative procedures. We also intend to implement a system of authorisations and permissions upon all licences to ensure that all regulated entities are clear of the regulated services they are approved by the CLC to deliver and any conditions imposed upon these. [ref. pages 161-171] Please see our extension of regulatory scope application for more details. NB. Should that application be unsuccessful we will remove Overriding Principle 4 of the Code of Conduct, Comply with your duty to the court, as this pertains to delivery of litigation and advocacy services. One of the six Overriding Principles of the revised Code of Conduct is to ‘Promote Equality of Access and Service’. We have created a dedicated Code and Guidance section to assist the regulated community in delivering the Outcomes required of this new provision. [pages 72-79] Given the diverse make-up of our regulated community we have provided Example Policies and Procedures as guidance for those in need of it. Previously such templates were labelled ‘Suggested’; this is no longer deemed appropriate to the flexibility which principles-based regulatory arrangements should embody. We therefore make it clear that these are examples only and are not mandatory requirements of the regulated community. The provision of a comprehensive Glossary reference document is intended to reduce unnecessary duplication and provide more consistency across the regulatory arrangements as a whole. [ref. pages 145-149] NB. Some of the Glossary references will only be applicable should our Licensing Authority and regulatory scope extensions be successful. Accessible, timely and impartial complaints procedures are essential to the delivery of positive outcomes for clients. With the revised Code of Conduct’s emphasis on equality of access and service it was considered appropriate that more guidance should be provided in this important area. [ref. pages 55-60]

Two amendments have been made to the Accounts Code [ref. pages 28-45]:

- 9.1.3 – introduces an express requirement for the Office and Client accounts to be used only in relation to the provision of services regulated by the CLC;
- 13.1.2 – requires written records to be kept of all monies which pass through the Office Account whether or not they relate to a particular transaction (and whether or not such monies have passed through the Office Account in breach of 9.1.3)

Paragraph 25 of the Compensation Fund Operating Framework [ref. pages 138-141] broadens the effect of rule 23 Compensation Fund Rules 2009 by omitting the phrase “where it is satisfied that that Manager has contributed intentionally, recklessly or negligently to the loss suffered by the Claimant”. This will enable the CLC to take proceedings for recovery of monies paid out of the CLC’s Compensation Fund against any Manager without having to prove that that Manager specifically contributed to the loss which resulted in a grant being made out of the Compensation Fund. The view taken is that whilst a Manager may not have been personally involved in a specific loss, they are likely to be responsible in the sense that they did not ensure that appropriate systems and procedures were in place to avoid the loss occurring in the first place. This will provide an additional incentive for Managers to ensure that a practice is properly run in the interests of consumers.

We also propose to make the rules governing Continuing Professional Development more targeted; not only may we direct an individual to attend (and pay for) a specific course as an alternative to disciplinary action, but specific CPD requirements will be allocated to each licence to ensure the training received is relevant. This will be checked against the regulated individual/body’s annual self-certification CPD record. [ref. pages 64-65 and 142-143]

We propose to publish formal enforcement determinations of our committees in order that those who do not deliver positive Outcomes to their clients are identified. This will provide the public and clients with confidence that we take action where it is needed and provide an appropriate incentive to other members of the regulated community to ensure they strive to deliver the Outcomes our regulatory arrangements seek. [ref. pages 126-137]

d. How and why the alteration will help to promote, be neutral towards or be detrimental to the Regulatory Objectives	The removal of prescriptive rules, or the raising of them to the higher level of principles, provides legal service providers with increased flexibility as to how they deliver services. The CLC believes this should enable the entities we regulate to be driven by consumer need rather than being led by prescriptive regulatory arrangements. This should help promote competition within the sector and improve access to justice routes. We acknowledge that a reduction in the level of prescription runs the risk of allowing too much flexibility. In some instances this would not be in the interests of either the public or the consumer. We have therefore retained some of our detailed rules, as ‘specific requirements’, where it is judged that the risk posed by removing the requirement was one which could not be tolerated. As a result, the restructure of the existing Rules and Guidance Notes has been more of a re-branding exercise than that of the Conduct Rules. The potential for consumer redress is an essential element in protecting the interest of consumers. Consumers must be made aware that they are entitled to make complaints where the service falls below the standard they expect. It is equally vital that the procedure which enables them to make complaints is accessible to all. We have therefore increased the emphasis placed upon timely, comprehensive, impartial and accessible complaints-handling processes. Should the revised regulatory arrangements be approved we will publish the Client Charter (provided at Annex C of our Licensing Authority application to the LSB) based upon them. This will be available in leaflet form on the CLC website. It is intended to increase public understanding of clients’ legal rights and duties; informing the public of the level of service they can expect from individuals and bodies regulated by the CLC; and the routes they can pursue if that is not the case.
e. Compliance with Better Regulation Principles	We have been transparent in our development of the regulatory arrangements and began informing both staff and the regulated community from late 2009 of our commitment towards an outcomes-focused regulatory approach. The Codes are targeted at the behaviour of those we regulate, holding them accountable first and foremost to their clients through delivery of positive Outcomes to them. The Client Charter intends to render our regulatory arrangements transparent to those who they aim to benefit most. The Code holds the CLC accountable to operating a risk-based regulatory approach, with our regulatory relationship being informed by our assessment of the risk a body and its activities presents to the Outcomes being

	delivered. The Codes' basis in principles (wherever possible/ appropriate) aims to be proportionate, affording those we regulate with opportunities to innovate and to respond to their clients' needs.
f. Desired outcome of the alteration and how we will assess whether this has been achieved.	The CLC welcomed the Legal Services Board's recommendation for Approved Regulators to move towards outcomes-focused regulation. This approach should render our regulatory arrangements more transparent, accountable and appropriate. They will also more explicitly demonstrate compatibility with the Legal Services Act 2007's regulatory objectives which seek to increase the public's understanding of the rights and responsibilities of citizens and to protect and promote the interests of both the public and consumers. We will survey the regulated community one year after the roll-out of outcomes-focused regulation to determine whether the revised arrangements demonstrate the transparency, accountability and proportionality sought. We will provide a dedicated website address for the regulated community to signpost us to any arrangements which they consider do not deliver the Outcomes sought. Should we agree with the feedback provided we will make the appropriate amendments to our regulatory arrangements (in liaison with the LSB).
g. Affect on areas regulated by other Approved Regulators.	We believe any effect these proposals have on other Approved Regulators will be entirely positive, since they are entirely consistent with the intent of the Legal Services Act 2007 and the LSB Guidance on the regulation of Licensed Bodies. There are some minor differences with the regulatory arrangements of other Approved Regulators – for instance, we are not seeking to implement a provision similar to the BSB's Cab Rank Rule; and our conflicts of interest provisions differ from those of the SRA – but we consider these regulatory differentials rather than conflicts, and differentials we can objectively justify.
h. Implementation timescale.	Delivery of the Code of Conduct's Outcomes is dependent upon the regulated community being fully aware of its responsibilities under them. The CLC has run an awareness-raising campaign of an outcomes-focused regulatory approach since late 2009. If the revised arrangements are approved these awareness-raising activities will be consolidated and built upon in the run up to the Code going live in October 2011. Training will be provided to staff to ensure everyone in the organisation is fully able to deliver the outcomes-focused agenda when it goes live.
i. Consultation processes undertaken and responses received.	The CLC began the Outcomes-focused consultation with the Code of Conduct in September 2010. This was followed by the revised Rules and Guidance Notes consultation in October. These were sent out to the CLC regulated

	community, Approved Regulators and a number of consumer representative bodies including the Legal Services Consumer Panel. It was also sent to the Office of Fair Trading and the office of the Lord Chief Justice. Notice of the Consultation was posted on the news section of the CLC website and a copy of the Consultation paper was made available on the download section of the website. Reminder mailshots were sent out during and immediately prior to the end of the consultation period. We have issued a summary of the responses received to our consultation, explaining how our approach has been informed by them. The consultation period was 12 weeks as recommended by the Regulators Compliance Code. A summary of the responses received is provided in Annex B.

Annex B – Consultation Summary

‘Proper’ Standard of Work

The Legal Services Consumer Panel welcomed the Code of Conduct’s focus on consumer outcomes but considered the ‘Maintain a proper standard of work’ to be insufficiently aspirational.

As the Code is focused upon legal service providers delivering the best possible outcomes for their clients, it is judged that it should require a higher standard regarding the work done on behalf of those clients so the Professional Principle of ‘Maintain a proper standard of work’ has been replaced with ‘Maintain a high standard of work’.

Confidence & trust

The Legal Services Consumer Panel, the Bar Standards Board and Law Society suggested that the Code of Conduct’s Outcomes would be strengthened by removing the ‘trust’ and ‘confidence’ references. We agree and have removed these subjective terms from the Code.

Specific requirements

A number of respondents were concerned by the Code of Conduct’s apparent opt-out of specific requirements, ‘You must also comply with the following specific requirements, unless you are able to satisfy the CLC, or the relevant disciplinary committee, that you are acting in a way which is consistent with the Principle and delivery of the applicable Outcomes’.

The discretion which appeared to be afforded was provided with the aim of operating our specific requirements on a principles-basis. We now acknowledge this could potentially threaten delivery of the Outcomes the Code seeks. Therefore, we have made it clear that all specific requirements are mandatory. Where flexibility of approach can be afforded we have raised the specific requirement to principle-level.

Acting for Buyer and Seller

Both a licensed conveyancer and the Law Society suggested that we should remove the Code of Conduct provision which allows an individual or body to represent both the buyer and seller.

Our current arrangements allow for a CLC-regulated body, or licensed conveyancer, to act for both buyer and seller. Such arrangements have generated minimal regulatory issues and we are not seeking to amend them. We consider such arrangements to be archetypal of a principles-based regime which treats the regulated community as adults and does not create unnecessarily prescriptive barriers.

Overriding Principle 3 requires those we regulate to at all times act in the best interests of clients. This is underpinned by the 3 following principles particularly pertinent in such a case:

You keep the interests of the Client paramount (except as required by the law or the CLC’s regulatory arrangements).

You do not act for a Client where you judge it is not in their best interests for you to do so.

You do not accept instructions from a person nor continue to act for a Client whose interests conflict directly with your own, the entity’s, or another Client and the specific requirement of:

Where the entity represents parties with different interests in any transaction each party is at all times represented by different Authorised Persons conducting themselves in the matter as though they were members of different entities. [ref pages 61-63]

Representing both the buyer and seller does not automatically present a conflict – indeed, such an arrangement can ensure clear communication channels and expedite transactions, both of which are in the interests of both clients - but should such an issue arise it is for the body/individual to manage it, whilst at all times acting in the best interests of the clients.

We acknowledge that this approach is different from the Law Society’s rules, which prohibit the practise of representing both buyer and seller. We are however, not of the opinion that because it is different, it is the wrong approach or represents a regulatory conflict. The allowance of representing both parties is already inherent in our existing regulatory arrangements and has presented minimal regulatory issues due to the safeguards we have in place in our regulatory arrangements. These will be maintained.

Exclude or limit liability

A number of respondents queried the principle of ‘You seek to exclude or limit liability only with the informed consent of the Client’. We acknowledge that the phrasing of this principle left it open to interpretation and have re-phrased the provision as follows, ‘ If you seek to exclude or limit liability, you do so only to the extent that such exclusion or limitation is above the minimum level of cover provided by CLC-approved Professional Indemnity Insurance; you must obtain the written consent of the Client for such exclusion or limitation to be effective’ [ref page 23, OP3p]

Headline pricing

The Legal Services Consumer Panel suggested that the Code of Conduct’s estimate of costs requirement should explicitly include disbursement information. We have amended the specific requirement accordingly. [ref page 23]

Vulnerability

A number of respondents suggested that the term of ‘vulnerable’ should be defined as it appeared too limited.

It was certainly not the intention that the term of vulnerability was confined only to persons with disabilities, though we acknowledge that the Outcomes aligned to Overriding Principle 6 may have appeared to indicate this. We readily acknowledge that people can be vulnerable due to a range of characteristics and that someone with a disability may not consider their self vulnerable because of it. The Outcomes aligned to OP 6 have therefore been amended so they do not appear to be focused upon those with disabilities and indicators of vulnerability have been provided. [ref page 26]

Equality Policy

Opinion on the provision of a mandatory Equality Policy varied. 3 respondents (2 Approved Regulators and regulated entity) considered this should be mandatory for all members of the regulated community. Another member of the regulated community considered it should be discretionary, whilst another judged this an inappropriate area for a regulator of legal services to be concerned with. Originally we had suggested that making this a mandatory requirement may have a disproportionate impact upon sole practitioners and their finite resources. We stand by this - it is each entity’s decision as to how they meet the Equalities Act; as long as they do so, they meet our regulatory requirements. While we will encourage all CLC Bodies to have an Equality Policy, the CLC believes that it is premature to make it mandatory. [ref. pages 72-79]

Guidance

Opinion on guidance provision was divided, with both the Bar Standards Board and Law Society emphasising the importance of guidance in a principles-based regulatory framework, whilst the Legal Services Consumer Panel suggested that we should aim for less and remove the Suggested Approach/Procedures from our regulatory arrangements.

We are of the opinion that insufficient provision of guidance could disproportionately impact upon sole practitioners (who have finite resources) or new businesses, which may benefit from guidance which suggests a direction likely to deliver positive Outcomes. We intend to retain these templates so members of the regulated community are provided with a starting point should they need it. However, we taken on board the point that 'Suggested' indicates a strong recommendation to comply with the template provided and this is not in keeping with the flexibility which should be afforded by principles-based regulatory arrangements. The templates have been rebranded as 'Example' only and it has been made clear that adoption of the Policy or Procedure is neither mandatory nor recommended, but is provided for reference only and to support entities seeking guidance.

Status

One of the respondents stated that they found the status of some sections to be unclear, most notably the Frameworks – e.g. the Licensed Conveyancer Licensing Framework and the Compensation Fund Framework – and those labelled 'Useful Information'. The parameters of the frameworks have been made clearer i.e. they set out the rules under which the CLC operates in these areas, rather than them being responsibilities of the regulated community. We consider it to be self-evident what 'Useful Information' pertains to and have retained it where appropriate. [ref. pages 161-171]

Data processing

One of the respondents suggested that the draft Code and Guidance should be amended or its scope more narrowly defined. The Code/Guidance was drafted in response to an earlier version of the Code of Conduct which had an explicit requirement to comply with data processing regulations. Further development of the Code of Conduct resulted in removal of this clause as the outcomes these regulations seek are already covered by its confidentiality principles. As a result the Code/Guidance has been removed from our proposed arrangements.

Qualified/Permitted Persons

The presence of Qualified and Permitted Person references in our current regulatory arrangements was commented on by one of the respondents. These terms were removed and replaced by the consistent Authorised Persons terminology. 'Qualified Person' is mentioned only in the Student Training Framework and is clearly defined. [ref. pages 172-174]

Fee arrangements

One respondent suggested that the disclosure of referral fees arrangements requirement should go further and include other arrangements, such as those with estate agents. Whilst another proposed that fee arrangements should be in the client's best interest. The Law Society suggested that referral fees should not be allowed.

We consider the referral fees arrangements to be sufficient, pending the LSB's decision paper on this. We also consider that declaration of the fees arrangement is adequate; it is for each client to determine if it is in their best interest. We intend to make no final determination until the LSB has made a decision on this and we have had an opportunity to consider it. [ref. page 22]

Professional Indemnity Insurance Code

Responses concerning the proposed opt-out of the Master Policy were mixed, though largely in favour. There were concerns expressed about the sustainability of the Master Policy following this. There were also requests for more information on the systems the CLC will adopt in ensuring insurance cover obtained is equal to that which would be provided by the Master Policy. We will ensure this is the case by taking advice from brokers where needed. [ref. pages 91 -94]

Council for

Introduction -
Outcomes-focused Regulation

The Legal Services Act

The Legal Services Act 2007 (LSA 2007) introduced Regulatory Objectives championing the interests of consumers of legal services:

- Protecting and promoting the public interest;
- Supporting the constitutional principle of the rule of law;
- Improving access to justice;
- Protecting and promoting the interests of consumers;
- Promoting competition in the provision of services;
- Encouraging an independent, strong, diverse and effective legal profession;
- Increasing public understanding of the citizen's legal rights and duties; and
- Promoting and maintaining adherence to the professional principles.

The objectives focus upon the principled behaviour of legal services providers and the interests of the consumer and the public. They are therefore best supported through regulation based in principles and focused upon positive Client Outcomes.

Outcomes-focused and principles-based regulation

Our regulatory arrangements must uphold the Regulatory Objectives and are therefore concentrated on delivery of high standards alongside the 3 Cs of client, competition and choice.

The Code of Conduct is the parent document of the CLC Handbook; it sits above all other Codes in our regulatory arrangements and must be complied with at all times. It specifies the Outcomes you as members of the CLC regulated community are expected to deliver. The following behaviours are considered essential to delivery of these Outcomes:

1. Act with independence and integrity.
2. Maintain high standards of work.
3. Act in the best interests of Clients.
4. Comply with duty to the court.
5. Deal with regulators and ombudsmen in an open and co-operative way.
6. Promote equality of access and service.

These six Overriding Principles are derived from the Regulatory Objectives set out above. The six have equal ranking and permeate our entire regulatory arrangements; you/the body you own or manage must act in this principled manner at all times. The Overriding Principles are underpinned by Principles and Specific Requirements:

Outcomes – delivery of a positive result for clients; it is the end result of the applications of a principle or specific requirement;

Principle – an essential quality; a characteristic, behaviour or ethic, which must be demonstrated so that positive outcomes are generated for clients;

Specific requirement – a strict direction for conduct.

Should a circumstance present an apparent conflict between a principle and another regulatory requirement you should opt for that which delivers the most positive Outcome for the Client concerned whilst maintaining independence, integrity and high standards of work. If in doubt, contact the CLC for advice.

Minimising prescription

Our regulatory arrangements are intended to ensure that clients receive a service tailored to their needs; and legal service providers develop new and different ways of delivering services to their clients. We will always look to provide principles rather than specific requirements wherever possible in order that we promote, not just allow, competition and choice. More prescriptive, 'specific requirements' are present only where they are required in the public interest and to protect the consumer. Such non-principled regulatory requirements will be applied in a principled-based manner wherever possible so that any penalty imposed is proportionate to a breach.

In providing you with flexibility we are also giving you responsibility - of good governance, quality assurance and risk management. The Guidance attached to Codes is there to provide useful information to the regulated community and in the case of Example Policies or Procedures to provide a possible route to the positive outcomes sought, but importantly, not the only route. If you are able to generate the same or better outcomes another way you are free to do so.

Applicability of Codes

All individuals/bodies regulated by the CLC must comply with the Codes which the Index labels Universal. The Codes underpin the Code of Conduct and are in place to support the delivery of that Code's Outcomes. The relevant Code of Conduct Principles and Specific Requirements are referenced in each Code so each one can be referenced as a standalone document where needed. The Universal Codes pertain to all Regulated Services which a body provides. The Codes identified as Specific – located in the rear of this Handbook – are relevant only to those bodies/ individuals specified.

We retain the discretion to waive a particular requirement of the regulatory arrangements. A body may apply for a modification of its licence to this end or we may apply a waiver due to particular circumstances.

Words presented in bold italicised font – such as Regulated Services above - are defined in the Glossary of Terms provided at the rear of this handbook.

Frameworks & Policies

We currently operate the following 7 Frameworks:

- Compensation Fund Operating Framework;
- Continuing Professional Development Framework;
- Licensed Body (ABS) Licensing Framework;
- Licensed Conveyancer Licensing Framework;
- Professional Indemnity Insurance Framework;
- Recognised Body Recognition Framework; and
- Student Training Framework.

[hyperlinks to each Framework will be inserted on website version]

These define our operating parameters, setting out the process which will be followed in the relevant instances e.g. the Compensation Fund Operating Framework sets out the rules by which the CLC manages its compensation scheme. We have provided the Compensation Fund, Continuing Professional Development and Professional Indemnity Insurance Frameworks within the CLC Handbook for your reference. The remaining frameworks are available to view on the CLC website [insert hyperlink] (along with the 3 provided here and our Fees Framework) and are not provided in the Handbook as they are the frameworks under which you applied to be regulated by us, and through which your licence or certificate was granted.

Policies mandate the performance of our activities. They set out the principles and values which will be applied in our approach to the relevant instances. The CLC Regulatory and Enforcement Policies are provided in the Handbook due to their relevance to all of the CLC regulated community and to the regulatory arrangements set out in this Handbook. The Regulatory Policy explains what we as a regulator of legal services are seeking to achieve and how our regulatory philosophy is put into practice. The Enforcement Policy explains how we identify and respond to non-compliance with our regulatory requirements and the factors which determine the form our response takes.

Welcome to the CLC!

Universal Arrangements

Introduction

This Code of Conduct was made in accordance with s.20 of the Administration of Justice Act 1985 and s.83 of the Legal Services Act 2007.

All individuals and bodies regulated by the CLC must comply with this Code and its associated regulatory arrangements. In this Code “you” refers to individuals and bodies (and the employees and managers within them) regulated by the CLC. You must not permit anyone else to act or fail to act in such a way as to amount to a breach of this Code. Your main driver should be the delivery of positive client outcomes. The Code comprises principles and specific requirements, which taken together deliver positive Outcomes for your Clients and, particularly in relation to Overriding Principle 6, for others you deal with.

To effectively secure the protection of, and the provision of choice for, the consumer of legal services, you must at all times comply with the following Overriding Principles:

1. Act with independence and integrity;
2. Maintain high standards of work;
3. Act in the best interests of your Clients;
4. Comply with your duty to the court;
5. Deal with regulators and ombudsmen in an open and co-operative way;
6. Promote equality of access and service.

These are underpinned by principles of behaviour which must be demonstrated and specific requirements which must be complied with in order that the Overriding Principles are supported.

Disciplinary proceedings may be taken against you if the CLC believes there has been a breach of this Code, meaning that clients do not receive the standard of legal services they should reasonably expect to receive. The CLC's response will be informed by the CLC's Regulatory and Enforcement Policies.

Accounts Code & Guidance

Accounts Code

In the case of an Authorised Person who no longer holds a Licence or Certificate of Recognition, this Code applies as if that Licence or Certificate of Recognition were still in force until such time as any relevant part of this Code has been fully and appropriately complied with.

8. You comply with anti-money laundering and prevention of financing terrorism legislation. (CoC P1m)
9. You:

 - 9.1.2 use each Client's money only for that Client's matters;
 - 9.1.3 only pay money into, and withdraw money from, the Client Account and the Office Account for purposes related to the provision of services regulated by the CLC;
 - 9.1.4 establish and maintain proper accounting systems, procedures, processes and internal controls, to ensure compliance with this Code;
 - 9.1.5 ensure there is no debit balance on the client side of a client ledger account nor a credit balance on the office side of a client ledger account;
 - 9.1.6 remedy any breach of these requirements without delay;
 - 9.1.7 account to the Client as soon as possible after completion of any transaction or after a retainer has been terminated.

Payment into Client Account

- 10.1. Subject to the provisions of the 10.4 and 11.1 requirements, upon receiving Client Money you pay it into a Client Account without delay.
- 10.2 Money held in a Client Account is available immediately, even at the sacrifice of interest, unless the Client otherwise instructs.
- 10.3 Money held in Separate Designated Accounts is not aggregated with money held in other Client Accounts.

Guidance – Payment into Client Account

- (i) When a client account is being opened, written notice should be given to the Bank or Building Society concerned in clear terms that the account is to be a Client Account and, in particular, that it may not be resorted to for the purpose of setting off against any other account of the body. The Bank or Building Society should also be asked to acknowledge its acceptance of this in writing.
- (ii) You/the entity may keep one Client Account or as many Client Accounts as you think fit.
- (iii) Subject to Requirement 10.3, the CLC permits schemes proposed by Banks to aggregate sums held in a number of Client Accounts in order to maximise the interest payable.
- (iv) Client Accounts are not intended to provide banking facilities for Clients.

(v) There are criminal sanctions against assisting money launderers – see Anti-Money Laundering and Combating Terrorist Financing Code.

10.4 Only Client Money is paid into or held in a Client Account except:

10.4.1 such money belonging to you as an Authorised Person as may be necessary for the purpose of opening or maintaining the Client Account;

10.4.2 money to replace any sum which for any reason has been or is about to be withdrawn from the account in breach of 12.5, such money then becoming Client Money;

10.4.3 where you receive money and are in doubt as to whether it is wholly Office Money you pay such money into a Client Account and within one calendar month of receipt ascertain and withdraw such part as is Office Money.

Guidance – Client Money

(i) Client Money includes money held or received:

(a) as agent, bailee or stakeholder;

(b) for payment of stamp duty land tax, Land Registry fees and telegraphic transfer fees (this does not become Office Money unless an obligation to pay out of Office Account has been incurred and the payment is recorded in the office columns of the appropriate client ledger account).

(c) as a payment on account of costs generally.

(ii) Money held to the sender's order is Client Money if accepted and must be held in a Client Account unless it is received on the express terms that the cheque or draft (as opposed to the money itself) may not be presented for payment without the sender's consent. In this case you are under a professional obligation to return the cheque or draft to the sender on demand.

(iii) A payment made by you to a Client which is credited to Client Account in accordance with requirement 10.4.2 becomes Client Money and must be recorded in both the client and office columns of the appropriate client ledger account.

(iv) You cannot be your own Client for the purposes of this Code; if a transaction is conducted for a manager, money held or received on your behalf is in principle Office Money. However, money received in such a case may still be Client Money, e.g.:

(a) where you/the entity act for a lender, money held or received on behalf of the lender is Client Money;

(b) where you/ the entity act for a manager and his spouse jointly (assuming that the spouse is not also a manager in the entity), money received on their joint behalf is Client Money;

(c) where you/the entity acts for an employee (whether or not a Licensed Conveyancer), consultant or director, such person is regarded as a Client of the entity and money received on his behalf is Client Money, even if that person conducts the transaction himself.

Money to be withheld from Client Account

11.1 Notwithstanding the provisions of this Code, you do not pay into a Client Account money:

- 11.1.1 which a Client instructs you to withhold from such an account, such instruction being either on a Durable Medium from the Client or acknowledged by you on a Durable Medium to the Client; or
- 11.1.2 which has been withheld from Client Account with the written authorisation of the CLC. (Authority is given only in very exceptional circumstances).

Withdrawal and Transfer from Client Account

- 12.1 Subject to requirement 12.3, there must be withdrawn from a Client Account:
 - 12.1.1 Without Delay following discovery, money that has been incorrectly paid into it;
 - 12.1.2 as soon as possible and in any event within one calendar month of receipt, Office Money paid into it in accordance with requirement 10.4.3;
 - 12.1.3 Without Delay Office Money no longer necessary to maintain a Client Account;
 - 12.1.4 within 28 days of the date on which a bill of costs is sent to a Client, money held on account of Costs and Disbursements, provided it is made clear to the Client or the paying party on a Durable Medium either before or at the time the bill of costs is sent that such money will be applied towards or in payment of that bill of costs. (The work for which the money is applied under this requirement must have been completed, whether at the end of a matter or at an interim stage (with the Client's agreement)).
- 12.2 In addition to the withdrawals referred to in requirement 12.1 and subject to requirement 12.3, there may only be withdrawn from Client Account money:
 - 12.2.1 properly required for payment to or on behalf of a Client;
 - 12.2.2 properly required for payment of a Disbursement on behalf of a Client;
 - 12.2.3 properly required in full or partial reimbursement of money already expended by you out of the Office Account on behalf of a Client;
 - 12.2.4 properly required in full or partial reimbursement of money for which you have incurred a liability to make a payment out of Office Account on behalf of a Client;
 - 12.2.5 which is transferred to another Client Account ;
 - 12.2.6 Where the CLC has given written authority for a specific payment to be made to a nominated payee or where the CLC has approved a scheme for automated payments direct from Client Account.
- 12.3 Withdrawals out of Client Account under requirements 12.1.4, 12.2.3 and 12.2.4 are specific sums relating to Costs or Disbursements. Round sum withdrawals on account of Costs or Disbursements are not permitted.
- 12.4 Money withdrawn under 12.1 and 12.2 does not exceed the total of the money held to the credit of both the Client and the Client Account in which the money is held.

- 12.5 You replace Without Delay any shortfall to a Client or to a Client Account by payment into Client Account under 10.4.2.

Guidance – Client Account Withdrawal & Transfer

- (i) Money held on account of Costs and Disbursements becomes Office Money on the date the bill of costs is sent to the Client (requirement 12.1.4).
- (ii) Money is 'expended' under requirement 12.2.3 at the time when a cheque is despatched, not when it is cleared. Money is also regarded as expended by the use of a credit account so that, for example, search fees, taxi fares and courier charges incurred in this way may be transferred to the Office Account.
- (iii) Requirement 12.2.4 permits you to transfer from client to office bank account monies where a direct debit scheme is in operation. A liability to pay out of Office Account is deemed to have incurred when the anticipated payment from office bank account has been evidenced on a Durable Medium and recorded on the office side of the appropriate client ledger account.
- (iv) The purpose of requirement 12.2.6 is to enable you, with the written authority of the CLC, to participate in schemes for automated payments to be made direct from Client Account. The CLC will generally only authorise individual payments to enable aged balances to be cleared.
- (v) Bearing in mind note (ii), you should take care in drawing against a Client Account cheque or draft which has not yet been cleared. If the cheque or draft should be dishonoured, you will have to make a payment under requirement 10.4.2 to ensure there is no breach of requirement 12.4.
- (vi) Similarly, if when acting for a Client you withdraw money from Client Account on the strength of information that a telegraphic transfer is on its way, but that transfer does not arrive, you will have to make a payment under requirement 10.4.2 to ensure there is no breach of requirement 12.4.
- (vii) A manager of a body or the Head of Finance & Administration of a Licensed Body must be able to operate the Office Account of the body in order to be able to comply with requirement 12.5.

- 12.6 Undrawn Costs or Disbursements must not remain in Client Account either in anticipation of future errors which could result in a shortage on that account or any current shortage on that account and are not available as a set off against any general shortage on Client Account.
- 12.7 Any withdrawal in your favour is recorded in both the client and office columns of the appropriate client ledger account in accordance with requirement 13.
- 12.8 Subject to requirement 12.9 a withdrawal from Client Account is made as follows:-
- 12.8.1 cheques or other written instructions for withdrawal from Client bank account are signed by an Approved Person;

12.8.2 where CHAPS terminals or other electronic systems are used to withdraw monies from Client bank account and authority has not been given in accordance with requirement 12.8.3, such systems are operated by an Approved Person;

12.8.3 where payments are authorised electronically, such authority is only given by an Approved Person.

Guidance – Withdrawals

(i) Nothing under requirement 12.8 shall prevent any other person from operating such systems or processes in conjunction with an Authorised Person, provided that such systems or processes cannot be operated by that other person alone.

(ii) Oral authorisations to the Bank are no longer permitted without confirmation of such authorisation on a Durable Medium.

12.9 Authority in accordance with requirement 12.8 is not required for the transfer of money from one Client Account to another Client Account at the same Bank or Building Society except where either is a Separate Designated Account. (Authority for any such transfer is required in accordance with requirement 12.8).

12.10 A transfer of money from the ledger account of one Client to that of another Client is only made if it would have been permissible under this Code for the money to be withdrawn from Client Account in the case of the first Client and for the money to be paid into Client Account in the case of the second Client.

12.11 A withdrawal from a Client Account in your favour is by way of a cheque to you or by way of a transfer to your Office Account.

12.12 Withdrawals in cash from a Client Account are not permitted.

12.13 Except with the prior written authority of both Clients no sum in respect of a Private Loan from one Client to another is paid out of funds held for the lender:

12.13.1 to the borrower directly; or

12.13.2 by a payment from one Client Account to another; or

12.13.3 by a transfer from the ledger account of the lender to that of the borrower;

12.14 All monies held in the Client Account are paid to the Rightful Recipient as soon as there is no longer any proper reason to retain these funds.

Guidance – Withdrawals & Transfers

(i) Monies remaining in Client Account that cannot be paid to the Rightful Recipient can be dealt with under requirement 12.2.6 (bearing in mind the Aged Balance Guidance attached to this Code).

(ii) Provided certain criteria have been met, withdrawals are allowed where the CLC has given authority and the balance has been static for over 12 months.

Accounting Records

- 13.1 You update Accounting Records at least once a week and ensure they are properly written up to show clearly all dealings with:
 - 13.1.1 Client Money received, held or paid, including Client Money withheld from a Client Account under 11.1; and
 - 13.1.2 Office Money and any other monies received, held or paid in any Office Account.
- 13.2 Accounting Records are sufficient to:
 - 13.2.1 show and explain accurately every transaction relating to each Client;
 - 13.2.2 disclose at any time total indebtedness to each Client and also each Client's total indebtedness to you/the entity.
- 13.3 All dealings with Client Money are appropriately recorded:
 - 13.3.1 In a client cash account or in a record of sums transferred from one client ledger account to another; and
 - 13.3.2 on the client side of a separate client ledger account for each Client or for each Client matter;
 - 13.3.3 with sufficient narrative on the ledger and cash account to explain each entry.

Guidance – Accounting Records

- (i) Where Banks operate automatic transfers to Client Accounts offering a higher rate of interest, separate cash accounts are not required to record these transfers.
- (ii) Only client ledger accounts in the name of a Client are allowed. General or suspense client ledger accounts are not permitted.

- 13.4 If Separate Designated Accounts are used:
 - 13.4.1 a combined cash account must be kept in order to show the total amount held in Separate Designated Accounts; and
 - 13.4.2 a record of the amount held for each Client must be made either in a deposit column of a client ledger account, or on the client side of a client ledger account kept specifically for a Separate Designated Account, for each Client;
 - 13.4.3 upon receipt of information that interest has been credited to the Separate Designated Account, corresponding entries must be made in the Accounting Records.
- 13.5 The current balance on each client and office ledger account is shown, or is readily ascertainable, from Accounting Records kept in accordance with this Code.

- 13.6 All dealings with Office Money relating to any Client must be appropriately recorded in an office cash account and on the office side of the appropriate client ledger account.
- 13.7 When acting for both lender and borrower in a mortgage transaction between them, separate client ledger accounts for both Clients need not be opened provided that the funds belonging to each Client are clearly identifiable and the lender is an institutional lender which provides mortgages in the normal course of its activities.

Guidance – Separate Designated Accounts

- (i) 'Clearly identifiable' means that, looking at the ledger account, both the nature and owner of the mortgage advance are unambiguously stated.
- (ii) Although a separate ledger account is not opened for the lender, the mortgage advance credited to the client's ledger account belongs to the lender, not to the borrower, until completion takes place. Improper removal of such funds from a Client Account is contrary to requirement 12.4.

- 13.8 You retain on a Durable Medium a central record or file of copies of all bills of costs distinguishing in each bill between Costs, paid Disbursements and Disbursements not yet paid at the date of the bill and VAT.

Reconciliations

- 13.9 At least once in each calendar month you:
- 13.9.1 prepare a bank reconciliation statement by comparing the balance on the client cash account with the balances shown on the client bank statements and passbooks (after allowing for all unrepresented items) of all Client Accounts and Separate Designated Accounts and any Client Money held by you/the entity in cash;
- 13.9.2 as at the same date prepare a listing of all the balances shown by the client and office ledger accounts and compare the total of the client ledger credit balances with the balance on the client bank reconciliation statement; and
- 13.9.3 prepare a reconciliation statement showing the cause of the differences (if any) shown by each of the above comparisons.
- 13.10 The steps required under requirement 13.9 are:
- 13.10.1 prepared to a date not more than five weeks after the date to which they were last prepared; and
- 13.10.2 completed within 7 days of the date to which they are prepared.
- 13.11 Records maintained in accordance with requirements 13.1 to 13.9 are kept separate from those for any other business. Where the accounts of more than one business are maintained on the same system, they are capable of being reproduced independently by the system.
- 13.12 You have immediate and unrestricted access to the Accounting Records.

Guidance – Reconciliation Statements

(i) Where, as a result of carrying out the comparisons and preparation of the reconciliation statement under requirement 13.9, any shortfall on Client Account is revealed it must be made good Without Delay by a payment into Client Account in accordance with requirement 10.4.2.

(ii) Where, as a result of carrying out the comparisons and preparation of the reconciliation statement under requirement 13.9, any credit balance on the office side of a client ledger account is revealed, it must be rectified by the appropriate action Without Delay.

(iii) Any outstanding credit on the client bank reconciliation should be cleared by a payment into client bank account Without Delay. The absence of a corresponding entry at the bank may create a shortfall on the relevant client ledger account.

Retention of Records

13.13 You retain on a Durable Medium for at least six years from the date of the last entry all documents or other records required by requirement 13.1 to 13.9.

13.14 You retain for at least two years:

13.14.1 all paid cheques, unless any relevant Bank or Building Society has agreed on a Durable Medium that it will retain such cheques or copies of the cheques on a Durable Medium on his behalf for that period; and 13.14.2 originals or copies of all other authorities for the withdrawal of money from the Client Account.

13.15 All statements and passbooks, as printed by the Bank or Building Society for Client Accounts, Separate Designated Accounts, accounts in which Client Money has been held and any Office Account is retained for at least six years from the date of the last entry.

Misappropriation of Clients' Money

13.16 Upon discovery of any misappropriation of Client Money you notify the CLC Without Delay. (The shortfall caused by the misappropriation must be rectified Without Delay by payment into Client Account in accordance with requirement 10.4.2).

CLC Monitoring

14.1 In order to monitor compliance with the CLC's Code, at the time and place determined by the CLC, you produce all information held on a Durable Medium relating to the business (to include his Accounting Records, papers, files and financial accounts) as would be reasonably required to enable the preparation of a report.

14.2 For the purposes of requirement 14.1, you hold Accounting Records on a Durable Medium and produce/make these available to the CLC's appointee in the manner required by the CLC.

Guidance – CLC Monitoring

- (i) Reasons are not required to be given for an inspection.
- (ii) You are required to provide, where required by the CLC's appointee, access to any computerised system.

Guidance - Disciplinary Consequences

- (iii) If it appears to the CLC that there has been a contravention of this Code, disciplinary proceedings may be taken against you as Manager or as an entity under the Code of Conduct.
- (iv) Where following an inspection instituted under requirement 14.1 it appears to the CLC that there is reason to believe you have failed to comply with a provision of this Code, the CLC may require you to pay a reasonable sum as is determined by the CLC to cover the cost of a further inspection.
- (v) Any report made by the CLC's appointee may be sent by the CLC to the Crown Prosecution Service or the Serious Organised Crime Agency or to any of the accountancy bodies recognised by the CLC. It may be used as the basis for a preliminary investigation and may be taken into account by the CLC in relation to the possible disqualification of a Reporting Accountant under requirement 16.7.3.

- 14.3 The CLC is entitled to seek verification from your Clients, staff and Banks or Building Societies. If necessary, you provide written permission for such information to be given.
- 14.4 If you do not give the CLC permission to remove original documents from your premises, you provide us with photocopies on our request.

Deposit Interest

- 15.1 When holding Client Money in a Separate Designated Account you seek a reasonable rate of interest on money held in that account and must account to the Client for all interest earned on that account.

Guidance – interest directions

Without prejudice to any other remedy, a Client may apply to the CLC for a direction as to whether or not interest should have been earned in respect of Client Money held on his behalf by an Authorised Person. If the CLC directs that interest should have been earned then it may issue a direction as to the sum you pay to the Client in lieu of interest.

- 15.2 If the CLC directs pursuant to paragraph 22 of Schedule 8 to the 1990 Act that such a sum should be paid, you pay to the Client the amount directed within fifteen days of the CLC sending notification of that direction.

Guidance – Deposit Interest

- (i) If appropriate, the CLC may require you to obtain an interest calculation from the relevant Bank or Building Society.

- 15.3 You provide sufficient information in writing to enable the Client to give informed consent in writing if it is felt appropriate to depart from requirement 15.1. This includes expressly drawing the Client's attention to any contracting out provision which may be contained in terms of engagement.

Guidance – Informed Consent/contracting out

(i) Whether it is appropriate to contract out depends on all the circumstances, for example, the size of the sum involved or the nature or status or bargaining position of the Client.

(ii) The larger the sum of interest involved, the greater your obligation to demonstrate that a Client who has accepted a contracting out provision was properly informed and has been treated fairly and reasonably.

Accountant's Reports

16.1 If you have at any time during an Accounting Period held or received Client Money you procure the delivery by the Reporting Accountant to the CLC of an Accountant's Report for that period.

16.2 The Accountant's Report is delivered to the CLC within six months of the end of the Accounting Period except that, where on the date of coming into force of this Code, the Accounting Period has already ended. The form of the Accountant's Report to be delivered shall be that prescribed by this Code.

16.3 If you have two or more places of business and choose separate Accounting Periods for these, you provide a separate Accountant's Report for each place of business.

16.4 You immediately notify the CLC of any changes to the identity, address and other relevant details of the Reporting Accountant.

16.5 Subject to Requirement 16.7 the Reporting Accountant is qualified to sign and give an Accountant's Report on behalf of an Authorised Person if he is a member of an accountancy body recognised by the CLC and holds a current practising certificate issued by that body when he signs the report.

Guidance – Accountant's Reports (1)

(i) Even when this Code does not require delivery of a Report, a condition on a licence to practise may impose a separate and binding obligation to that effect.

(ii) When Client Money is held or received by an entity, any Manager will have held or received Client Money.

(iii) Employees do not usually hold Client Money, even if they are signatories on an entity's Client Account.

(iv) If an employee does hold Client Money, an Accountant's Report will need to be delivered.

(v) You must apply to the CLC for consent to vary the Accounting Period.

(vi) When an entity is being wound up, you may be left with Client Money which is unattributable or belongs to a Client who, despite efforts, cannot be traced. It may then be appropriate to apply to the CLC for authority to withdraw this money from the Client Account under requirement 12.2.6 (see CLC's Aged Balance Guidance attached to this Code).

(vii) It is not a breach of requirement 16.5 for you to retain an independent accountant to write up the books of account and to instruct the same person to prepare and sign the Accountant's Report. However, the accountant will have to disclose these circumstances in the Accountant's Report.

Requirements to be qualified to certify Accountant's Reports

16.6. The Accountant's Report is certified by a member of one of the following accountancy bodies:

- (a) the Institute of Chartered Accountants in England and Wales;
- (b) the Institute of Chartered Accountants of Scotland;
- (c) the Institute of Chartered Accountants in Ireland;
- (d) the Association of Chartered Certified Accountants;
- (e) the Association of Authorised Public Accountants.

16.7 The Accountant's Report is not certified by an accountant who:-

16.7.1 either at any time between the beginning of the Accounting Period to which the Accountant's Report relates and the signing of the Accountant's Report they were a partner, employee or officer in the entity to which the Accountant's Report relates or was employed by the same employer as the Authorised Person for whom the Accountant's Report is given; or 16.7.2 they have been disqualified under 16.7.3 and have been given by the CLC notice of disqualification which has not been withdrawn.

Guidance - Disqualification of Accountants

(i) The CLC may disqualify an accountant from giving an Accountant's Report if:

- a) they have been found guilty by the disciplinary tribunal of their professional body of professional misconduct or discreditable conduct; or
- b) it is satisfied that the Reporting Accountant has failed in their Accountant's Report to properly identify and explain to the satisfaction of the CLC any breaches of this Code.

(ii) In coming to a decision the CLC will take into account any representations made by the accountant and their professional body.

(iii) The CLC shall notify you if you are likely to be affected by an accountant's disqualification, and may also publish notification of such disqualification in the CLC's 'Chronicle' or other publication.

16.8 You ensure that your Reporting Accountant's rights and duties are stated in terms of engagement, which include the terms set out in the Schedule. The terms of engagement and a copy are signed by both you and the Reporting Accountant and you retain the copy.

16.9 The Reporting Accountant examines your Accounting Records and other relevant documents at your office, not their own, and does not remove any original records from the premises.

- 16.10 You provide the Reporting Accountant with details of all accounts kept or operated by you in connection with your entity at any Bank or Building Society at any time during the Accounting Period to which the Accountant's Report relates, including Client Accounts, Office Accounts and accounts which are not Client Accounts but which contain Client Money.
- 16.11 The Reporting Accountant examines your Accounting Records to ensure compliance with this Code and carries out the checks and tests as prescribed on the CLC website and Management Information System.
- 16.12 The Reporting Accountant signs and delivers to the CLC the Accountant's Report together with the completed checklist in the form prescribed by the CLC.

Guidance – Accountant's Report (2)

- (i) Although requirement 16.12 requires the Reporting Accountant to deliver to the CLC the Accountant's Report together with the completed checklist, requirement 16.1 requires you to procure the delivery of the Accountant's Report to the CLC by the Reporting Accountant within the due date. The Reporting Accountant must provide you with a copy of the Accountant's Report and completed checklist.
- (ii) Factors to be considered in determining whether a breach is 'trivial' include the amount involved, the nature of the breach, whether the breach was deliberate or accidental, how often the same breach occurred, and the time which passed before discovery and correction (especially the replacement of any shortage).
- (iii) If an Accountant's Report is qualified only by reference to trivial breaches but which shows a significant difference between liabilities to Clients and Client Money held, either you or the Reporting Accountant must provide the CLC with an explanation for this difference, as required by the Accountant's Report Form.

General Saving Provisions

- 17.1 When acting on a Client's instructions, you have the general right on the grounds of Client privilege to decline to produce any document the Reporting Accountant requests for examination purposes. Where such a refusal occurs, the Reporting Accountant must qualify his Accountant's Report and include an explanation for such qualification.

Guidance – General Savings Provisions

- (i) Upon receiving a written application from you the CLC may waive in writing in any particular case any of the provisions of requirement 16 and may revoke any waiver.
- (ii) Nothing in this Code deprives you of your entitlement to money standing to the credit of a client ledger account.

Reporting Accountant's Terms of Engagement - Schedule 1

- 18.1 The terms on which you instruct a Reporting Accountant include the following:-
- 18.2 'In accordance with the CLC Accounts Code you are instructed:
- 18.2.1 to conduct tests and checks prescribed by the CLC;

- 18.2.2 to sign and deliver to the CLC the Accountant's Report together with the completed checklist in accordance with requirement 16.11; and provide me with a copy;
- 18.2.3 to report directly to the CLC without prior reference to me/this firm/this company if, in the course of carrying out work in preparation of the accountant's report, you discover evidence of theft or fraud affecting client money or information which is likely to be of material significance in determining whether I am/this entity is a fit and proper person to hold client money;
- 18.2.4 to report directly to the CLC should your appointment be terminated following the issue of, or the indication of intention to issue, a qualified Accountant's Report or following the raising of concerns prior to the preparation of an Accountant's Report;
- 18.2.5 to retain these terms of engagement for at least two years after termination of the retainer and to produce them to the CLC on request; and
- 18.2.6 following any report made to the CLC under 18.4 and 18.5, to provide to the CLC on request any further relevant information in your possession or in the possession of your firm.
- 18.3 By accepting instructions under requirement 16 of the Accounts Code you agree that:-
- 18.3.1 the CLC will rely upon the content of your Report,
- 18.3.2 a duty of care is owed by you to the CLC; and
- 18.3.3 your liability to the CLC will be limited to the loss and costs suffered by the CLC arising from items which you have negligently failed to specify in your Report.
- 18.4 To the extent necessary to enable you to comply with the preceding paragraphs, I/We waive my/the firm's/the company's right of confidentiality. This waiver extends to any report made, document produced or information disclosed to the CLC in good faith in accordance with these instructions, even though it may subsequently transpire that you were mistaken in your belief that there was cause for concern'.

Aged Balances Guidance

Purpose of Guidance

The purpose of this Guidance is to help the regulated community resolve the problem of Aged Balances; this money cannot be withdrawn from the client account without written authority of the CLC. The Guidance intends to highlight issues which may arise and suggest possible solutions. However, it is up to the individual Authorised Person to decide which options best suit their circumstances.

Part 1 of this note sets out ways in which you can avoid or minimise Aged Balances; and Part 2 sets out the procedure which the CLC will adopt when it considers whether to give written authority in accordance with requirement 12.2.6 of the CLC Accounts Code.

Part 1 ~ How to Avoid Aged Balances - Example Procedure

On Receipt of Instructions: -

1. (a) obtain the client's bank details (name and address of bank, sort code, account number and name) e.g. by keeping a copy of cheques issued by the client;
(b) alternatively, obtain the client's credit card details.

Completion Statements

2. (a) "Completion Statement" means an itemised statement of money paid in and out concluding with a balance either owed by or to be paid to the recipient.
(b) Draft Completion Statements should be prepared and checked prior to exchange of contracts.
(c) All Completion Statements (whether in draft or final form) should be checked for accuracy by reference: -
(i) to the account or alternatively to their credit card account; and
(ii) to the client ledger, with evidence from the rightful recipient on Durable Medium.

Client Ledger Card

3. The client ledger card should be checked to ascertain whether a balance remains after the last payment is made and, if so, the balance should be accounted for immediately to the Rightful Recipient.
4. It is good practice to ensure that: -
(i) the client ledger balances are reviewed monthly to identify unexpected or dormant client balances;
(ii) If a balance is held against a contingent liability, a note is made on the client ledger card (alternatively the file) clearly identifying that liability; and
(iii) a schedule of client balances held for 3 months or more is maintained stating in each case the client(s) name(s), file/ledger number, the Rightful Recipient, the balance outstanding, the date of last movement and the reason for the balance.
5. Before a file is closed or archived: -
(a) the client ledger card should be checked to ensure: -
(i) no balance is outstanding;
(ii) all cheque payments have been cleared by the bank;
(b) a copy of the client ledger card showing a nil balance on both the client and office account should be placed on the file.

Unpresented Cheques

6. Unpresented cheques should be reviewed on a regular basis.
(a) Unpresented Mortgage Redemption Cheques ~ the Rightful Recipient should be contacted within 12 days or no later than one month after payment has been tendered and then at frequent intervals; [do we need to define 'frequent'??]
(b) All other cheques ~ the Rightful Recipient should be contacted after no more than two months after the cheque has been tendered and then at a minimum of two monthly intervals.
7. If a cheque has been lost or remains unpresented after six months: -
(a) a stop should be placed on the original cheque;
(b) the cheque should be written back to the client ledger account; and

- (c) the monies paid: -
 - (i) either direct to the Rightful Recipient's bank account, alternatively credit card account; or
 - (ii) at the Rightful Recipient's direction.

Retention Monies

- 8. Where possible you should seek agreement providing for retention monies to be held on terms that provide for payment to a named person at a specified bank account if the terms for their release have not been satisfied within a specified period.
- 9. If no such term has been agreed: -
 - (a) the file should be reviewed every three months; and
 - (b) you should seek to obtain such an agreement.
- 10. It is good practice to maintain: -
 - (a) a schedule of retention balances stating in each case the client(s) name(s), the file/ledger number, the amount of and the reason for the retention and the last date for release; and
 - (b) a separate note of the reason for the retention and the last date for release on the client ledger card.

Aborted or Delayed Transactions

- 11. Regular contact should be maintained with the client where the matter has either aborted or been delayed.

Part 2 - Obtaining Authority from the CLC

- 1. Requirement 12.2.6 of the CLC Accounts Code provides that money may be withdrawn from Client Account, where -
"the CLC has given written authority for a specific payment to a nominated payee".

Authorisation

- 2. The CLC will consider giving this authorisation as follows: -
 - 2.1 where the Aged Balance is less than £20.00:-
 - (a) the CLC must be provided with: -
 - (i) an Undertaking in the following terms: -
"In consideration of the CLC giving written authority in accordance with Requirement 12.2.6 of the CLC Accounts Code for the withdrawal of the monies set out in the schedule to this Undertaking (the "Annex") I/We [names] undertake to the CLC that I/we shall within 14 days of a request from the Rightful Recipient pay the sum outstanding as set out in the Annex in accordance with this direction."
(ii) the Annex which sets out in each case the client(s) name(s), the file/ledger reference, identifying the property to which the transaction related, the Rightful Recipient, the balance outstanding and the date of last movement;
 - (b) on receipt of the Undertaking the CLC may give written authority for withdrawal of the sums set out in the Annex from the client account;

- (c) on receipt of the written authority from the CLC you can transfer the balances as set out in the Annex from client to office bank account providing the relevant entries have been made to a suitable office nominal ledger account e.g. "Write Offs" and places a copy of the authority issued by the CLC on the clients' file.
- 2.2 Where the Aged Balance amounts to £20 or more but less than £100 the CLC must be provided with: -
- (a) a schedule setting out in each case the client(s) name(s), the file/ledger reference, identifying the property to which the transaction related, the Rightful Recipient, the balance outstanding and the date of last movement;
 - (b) a copy of the client ledger card(s); and
 - (c) a signed certificate giving brief details of how the balance has arisen and stating you have taken all Reasonable Steps to trace the Rightful Recipient but have been unable to trace that person.
- The Rightful Recipient is the person to whom monies held by the CLC Body on client account are correctly due.
- 2.3 'Reasonable Steps' are dependent on the particular circumstances and the sum involved. Examples are: -
- attempting to contact the Rightful Recipient at all known addresses, by all known telephone numbers and at any known e-mail address, or through Estate Agents;
 - attempting to return funds using available bank or credit card details of the Rightful Recipient;
 - contacting known friends/relatives of the Rightful Recipient;
 - advertising in a local newspaper.
- 2.4 Where the Aged Balance is £100 or more the CLC must be provided with the information set out in 2.2(a) and (b) and, in addition: -
- (a) details of the Reasonable Steps taken to trace the Rightful Recipient;
 - (b) brief details indicating how the balance has arisen; and
 - (c) any other information the CLC may request.
- 2.5 If authority is given by the CLC for a withdrawal under paragraph 2.2 or 2.4 it will only be on the basis that a cheque or funds transfer for the sum so authorised must be drawn on the client account payable to the CLC. On receipt, the cheque will be placed to the credit of the CLC's Compensation Fund and utilised for the benefit of such Fund. You should place a copy of the authority issued by the CLC on the clients' file.
- 2.6 Where the Rightful Recipient cannot be identified, the CLC will, in exceptional circumstances, give authority under Requirement 12.2.6 of the CLC Accounts Code for the withdrawal of funds from client account on the basis that a cheque or funds transfer for any sum so authorised must be drawn on the client account payable to the CLC. On receipt, the cheque will be placed to the credit of the CLC's Compensation Fund and utilised for the benefit of such Fund. You should place a copy of the authority issued by the CLC on the clients' file (or if this is not available in a central record hold it on a Durable Medium).
- 2.7 If the Rightful Recipient contacts you after funds have been paid into the CLC's Compensation Fund you should contact the CLC with a view to the Rightful Recipient making a claim for reimbursement on the Compensation Fund unless the body is no longer trading in which case they should contact the CLC directly.

Anti-Money Laundering and Combating Terrorist Financing Guidance

Introduction

1. Overriding Principle 2 of the CLC Code of Conduct requires you to Maintain High standards of Work. The approach set out below aims to help you comply with that principle. You are not obliged to adopt this approach, but it offers you an example of the minimum commitment that the CLC considers is likely to be needed for compliance. Should you use the provided example as your starting point, it is likely that you would need to make amendments to ensure that it matches your particular circumstances. The procedures you adopt should apply a risk-based approach, taking into account the nature of your work, clients, and the number of employees.
2. For more detailed guidance on this please see the CLC's Interim Guidance on prevention of Money Laundering and Combating Terrorist Financing [insert hyperlink]).

3. AML/CTF Policy Example

'IMPORTANT

It is essential that that the business and its employees comply with the letter and spirit of this policy since failure to do so may amount to a criminal offence for which it is possible to be sentenced to a term of imprisonment.

1. As a business, we are committed to complying with the anti money laundering legislation, in particular the Proceeds of Crime Act 2002, the Terrorism Act 2000 (each as amended) and the Money Laundering Regulations 2007.
2. We must at all times take steps to ensure that our business is not used to launder the proceeds of crime or to assist terrorist financing.
3. We must explain to clients the need to obtain proof of identity and the limitations on our duty of confidentiality to them either in our terms of engagement or otherwise in writing.
4. We accept that the Nominated Officer has full autonomy in carrying out their duties.
5. We will ensure that you are given appropriate and regular training to help you comply with AML/CTF, this policy and the procedures of the business.

6. We will communicate to you details of any types of business we have decided not to accept.
7. We will regularly monitor and review our policies, procedures and training.
8. We require all of the business's members to follow carefully the procedures set out in the Procedures Manual.

4. AML/CTF Procedures Example

'IMPORTANT

It is essential that the business and its employees comply with the letter and spirit of these procedures since failure to do so may amount to a criminal offence for which it is possible to be sentenced to a term of imprisonment.

Procedures

1. You must not act or continue to act for a client until all requirements for Customer Due Diligence (CDD) or Enhanced Customer Due Diligence (EDD) have been met. If these cannot be met, you must
 - not establish a new business relationship; or
 - terminate any existing business relationship.You must then consider whether to make an internal report to the Nominated Officer.
2. The purpose of CDD and EDD is to help you decide whether your clients are the persons they say they are and that you can:
 - know with some certainty whether your clients are acting on behalf of another (called a beneficial owner)
 - establish there is nothing to prevent you providing the service requested
 - assess whether the purpose of the instruction is consistent with the lifestyle and economic means of your clients
 - establish there are no obvious elements which suggest that any transaction is unusual or over complex in the context of those instructions.
3. Whenever instructed by any client you must obtain evidence as early as possible that:
 - the client is the person he or she claims to be, for example, by a current signed passport or current UK photo driving licence; and
 - a person of that name lives at the address given, for example, by a utility bill less than 3 months old or mortgage statement;unless we already hold evidence of that client's identity which is both relevant and up-to-date and there are no reasons to believe that any of the details have changed.
4. You should find out whether there is a beneficial owner in which case you must be satisfied who that person is. A beneficial owner is the person who ultimately owns and controls the client on whose behalf a transaction is being conducted (see further paragraphs 6.14 – 6.19 of the CLC's Interim Guidance for the Prevention of Money Laundering and Combating Terrorist Financing). There may be more than one. If the client is a company you must identify who owns 25% or more of the structure and who exercises effective management and control.

5. Further examples of acceptable ID evidence are set out in the Acting for Lenders and Mortgage Fraud Code and Guidance. Photocopies should always be certified as being true copies of the original and signed and dated by the person making the copies.
6. EDD checks must be made in any situation which by its nature can present a higher risk of money laundering or terrorist financing. The 2007 Regulations identify two specific examples where EDD must be carried out:
 - where the client has not been physically present for identification purposes; or
 - where the client is a Politically Exposed Person
7. The most frequent circumstance in which you must carry out EDD is likely to be when you do not meet your client at the time you establish and verify identity. In addition to the usual steps taken to verify identity for CDD, you should obtain at least one additional document of identity or verify identity electronically through [state specific source the business uses].
8. Further CDD guidance can be found in the Acting for Lenders and Prevention & Detection of Mortgage Fraud Code and Guidance.
9. You keep a record and take copies of all relevant documentation about the client's identity and address and we must keep them for at least 5 years.
10. You make reasonable enquires and take copies of all relevant documentation relating to the source of funds and we must keep them for at least 5 years.
11. If you are not satisfied with the documentation or explanation you are given you should consider whether to make further enquires (either orally or in writing), where appropriate, seeking guidance from a supervisor or someone with more experience within the business.
12. Examples of Warning Signs which you should take into account in deciding whether to make an internal suspicion report are set out in the Acting for Lenders and Prevention & Detection of Mortgage Fraud Code and Guidance, paragraph 15, and include:
 - secretive clients;
 - involvement of unconnected third parties
 - unusual instructions
 - overpayments of money.No list of examples provided at any one time can ever be exhaustive and you will need to exercise your skill and judgment to assess any circumstances involved in a transaction which may seem to you or to an ordinary member of the public to be unusual or out of the ordinary.
13. You should not accept payments of cash in excess of [£100] either made directly to you or into the firm's bank account.

14. If the nature of the transaction, the documentation or information you have been given would have aroused suspicions for a reasonable and honest Authorised Person, then you must immediately make an internal suspicion report in writing using our prescribed form to [name] who is our Nominated Officer (or in his absence [name]). [The business should suggest a procedure to support its employees when dealing with customer enquiries once a report has been made.]
 15. Once you have made a report to the Nominated Officer, no further action should be taken regarding the transaction without the specific authority of the Nominated Officer.
 16. You must not disclose your suspicions or the fact that you have made a report to the Nominated Officer to any other person, in particular the person who is the subject of such a report, since this may amount to “tipping off”, which is also serious criminal offence for which you could be imprisoned.
 17. You must respond promptly to requests from the Nominated Officer for any further information.

5. AML/CTF Example Policy for the body’s appointed Nominated Officer

1. The business requires you as its Nominated Officer to comply with this policy in addition to complying with the business’s AML/CTF policy.
2. Failure to carry out your duties may cause you to commit a criminal offence.
3. You will have access to all files, records and information and be given sufficient resources and authority to fulfil the role and be allowed to carry out your duties without fetter, influence or interference.
4. Upon receipt of each internal suspicion report from any of the business’s members , you must acknowledge receipt in writing to the person making the report. You must then consider carefully whether a report should be made to the Serious Organised Crime Agency (SOCA).
5. You must make a report to SOCA in the prescribed form where you have actual knowledge or suspicion, or where (based on what an ordinary member of the public might think) there are reasonable grounds to know or suspect a money laundering offence has been committed. You will need Consent from SOCA for an ongoing transaction to proceed.
6. If you do make a report to SOCA then you must ensure that you maintain regular telephone contact with them where Consent is required.
7. You must maintain a record of each decision you have made and keep it for at least 5 years whether or not you send a report to SOCA.
8. You must support and advise members of staff who make internal suspicion reports to you, emphasising the implications for them of “tipping off”. In particular you must do this where you are waiting for Consent to proceed from SOCA.

[9. You may also be the MLRO of the business].’

8. Example of wording to be incorporated into the Terms of Engagement

8.1. Proof of Identity

We must by law obtain satisfactory evidence of your identity and address. Please help us to do so by giving us the information and documentation we ask for. We are unable to proceed with your transaction and will not be able to exchange contracts until this has been provided.

8.2. Confidentiality

As lawyers, we are under a general professional and legal obligation to keep your affairs private. However, we are required, by current legislation, to make a report to the Serious Organised Crime Agency (SOCA) where we know or suspect that a transaction involves Money Laundering or Terrorist Financing. By instructing us to act on your behalf in accordance with these terms of engagement you give us irrevocable authority to make a disclosure to SOCA if we consider it appropriate.

8.3. You agree that this authority overrides any confidentiality or entitlement to legal professional privilege. We shall be unable to tell you if we have made a report.

11. You treat fairly members of staff who are the subject of a complaint.

Legal Ombudsman

1. We have adopted the Legal Ombudsman's definition of a complaint. Please see this Handbook's Glossary.
2. Contact information for Legal Ombudsman:

PO Box 15870
Birmingham
B30 9EB

3. The Legal Ombudsman can normally only investigate a complaint if it has already been through your own complaints procedures. If the ombudsman receives a complaint concerning you/the body which has not been through your complaints process, it will be referred to you to be dealt with in the first instance. It is therefore acceptable for you to include the following terms in any complaints procedure, “Unless it agrees there are good reasons not to do so, the Legal Ombudsman will expect you to allow us to consider and respond to your complaint in accordance with the procedure set out above, before they will consider it.”
4. The Legal Ombudsman can accept complaints up to 6 months after the completion of your own complaints process, or within 12 months of the complainant discovering a problem (whichever is later). The complainant may also refer their complaint to the Legal Ombudsman if your own complaints process has taken 8 or more weeks to complete.
5. The Legal Ombudsman’s jurisdiction covers service-related complaints; the ombudsman will refer any conduct-related complaints to the CLC.
6. The Legal Ombudsman will charge a case fee (currently £400) if the complaint is upheld following a formal determination. It currently operates a 2 free upheld complaints system i.e. legal service providers pay the case fee for the 3rd upheld complaint over a 12 month period.

Requirements of the Code

1. Should your response timescales be shorter than those identified in the Code we would not require you to alter them.
2. Provision must be made for complaints to be made by any ‘reasonable means’; determination as to what constitutes ‘reasonable’ is at your own discretion, taking into account the body’s size, profile and clients, though we would expect the minimum provision to be in person, telephone and by letter. NB. Bodies may wish to also provide Customer Feedback Forms and provide for complaints to be made via the body’s website.

Example Procedure

Overriding Principle 6 of the CLC Code of Conduct requires you to promote equality of access and service. The Procedure template below aims to help you comply with that principle. You are not obliged to adopt this approach, but it offers you an example of the minimum that the CLC considers is likely to be needed for compliance. Should you adopt the procedure, it is likely that you would need to make amendments to ensure it works with the number of your employees, the nature of your work and your Clients e.g. sole practitioners should only have complaint determination review arrangements in place with other bodies if the review would be carried out in a timely manner. NB. If you do not have a review system in place, the complainant should be referred directly to the Legal Ombudsman.

Complaints Example Procedure

If you have any complaint about the way in which your matter has been dealt with this is the procedure which will be followed:

1.	A complaint is an oral or written expressions of dissatisfaction which alleges that the complainant has suffered (or may suffer) financial loss, distress, inconvenience, or detriment.
2.	We aim to resolve any complaint you have about the service we have given you as quickly as possible. If you are unable to sort things out with the person who has been dealing with you please contact [name, contact details]. [Alternatively, for a sole practitioner – If you are unable to sort things out with me please let me know in writing and I shall ask [name, contact details] to look into your complaint for me].
3.	Once we have received your complaint, [name above] will write to you within 7 days to explain how your complaint will be investigated if a complete response to your complaint has not been made by that time. You will be told the latest date by which a complete answer will be given to your complaint (this should be not more than 28 days after we received your complaint). If you have made the complaint verbally - either at a meeting or on the telephone - we will set out in our full response our understanding of the nature of your complaint
4.	The assessment of the complaint will be based upon a sufficient and fair investigation. We will explain in writing our findings and where the complaint is upheld will offer remedial action or redress. This will be actioned promptly.
5.	[If you are dissatisfied with any aspect of our handling of your complaint, please feel free to contact [name, contact details], who will conduct a separate review of your complaint [Alternatively, for a sole practitioner – If you are dissatisfied with the way your complaint is handled please let me know in writing and I shall ask [name, contact details] who will conduct a separate review of your complaint for me.] You will be told about the conclusion of this review within [28] days.
6.	If after following the review process you remain dissatisfied with any aspect of our handling of your complaint, you may contact directly the Legal Ombudsman to ask them to consider the complaint further: Tel no: 0300 555 0333 Email:enquiries@legalombudsman.org.uk mailto:Website: http://www.legalombudsman.org.uk/ Legal Ombudsman PO Box 15870 Birmingham B30 9EB Unless it agrees there are good reasons not to do so, the Legal Ombudsman will expect you to allow us to consider and respond to your complaint in accordance with the procedure set out above in the first instance. You can refer your complaint up to 6 months after you have received our final written response to your complaint. You can also use the Ombudsman service if we have not resolved your complaint within 8 weeks of us receiving it. A complaint can be referred to the Legal Ombudsman within 12 months of you discovering a problem. The ombudsman deals with service-related complaints; any conduct-related complaints will be referred to the Council for Licensed Conveyancers .

Good Practice

This section provides you with guidance and examples of good practice, which you are not required to adopt but which you may wish to consider.

1. Learning from complaints is an essential part of overall customer care. Complaints data provides you with a useful ‘business barometer’ to prevent recurrence of similar-themed complaints, identify any training needs and increase client satisfaction. To this end, you may wish to record complaints by themes or categories which are useful to your business.
2. It is good practice to offer access to a review of how a complaint was handled. If you are the body’s only Manager you may wish to arrange for another firm to carry out a separate review of the complaint. Any review should be completed within 28 days of the request for the separate review and should not inconvenience the complainant.
3. It is considered good practice for the senior management to review complaints trends. Lessons can then be learned and applied across the organisation, creating an environment in which complaints are seen as opportunities to improve systems and services. It is also considered good practice to periodically review the complaints-handling process to identify if there are any improvements needed.
4. Complaints enable staff to develop a better understanding of the service user’s point of view. All staff should be aware of the complaints procedure and take complaints seriously. If complaints identify a systemic issue it may be appropriate to organise staff training to address it. Some organisations recognise and reward those members of staff who handle complaints well.
5. It is beneficial for staff to feel that their complaints-handling procedures support them. It would be in their interests if the procedure meant that any accusations made against staff were known only to them and to those investigating the complaint. It is likely to be beneficial to the body if its staff – and if possible, its clients - are involved in developing complaints procedures.
6. To enhance the accessibility of your complaints process you could give consideration to clients being able to lodge a complaint via your website; allowing someone else to make the complaint on behalf of a vulnerable client; and providing the complaints procedure in large print. This list is certainly not exhaustive; procedures should be tailored to the needs of clients wherever appropriate.
7. Some organisations produce customer feedback leaflets which include an overview of the body’s complaints procedure and sometimes a complaint form or slip. Others survey complainants to gauge satisfaction with the complaint-handling process. The following table identifies some possible questions which those considering customer satisfaction surveys may find useful.

Possible 'How well did we do?' Survey Questions

- How did you find out about our complaints procedure?
- Was the complaints procedure information useful and easy to understand?
- How did you initially contact us with the complaint?
- What was the nature of your complaint?
- Did staff make you feel it was okay to make a complaint?
- Were you given a clear explanation of the complaints-handling process?
- Did you need help from us to make your complaint? If yes, did you get it?
- Did we keep you well-informed about the progress of your complaint?
- Did you find our staff helpful in dealing with your complaint?
- Did you feel the complaint was dealt with quickly enough?
- Did you feel the investigation into your complaint was thorough?
- Did you feel the investigation into your complaint was conducted fairly?
- Did you feel we understood your complaint?
- Was our response meaningful?
- Was our response easy to understand?
- Did our response address all the points you had raised?
- After the investigation into your complaint did we do what we promised?
- Were you satisfied with the final outcome of your complaint?
- How do you rate your overall experience of the complaints process?
- Do you have any suggestions as to how we could improve how complaints are dealt with?
- Do you feel that your age, disability, ethnicity, gender, race, religion or sexuality led to any barrier in accessing the complaints procedure?
- Do you feel that age, disability, ethnicity, gender, race, religion or sexuality adversely impacted upon how your complaint was dealt with?
- Do you have any additional comments?

Some also profile the complainants to determine if there is a particular equalities group which feels disproportionately dissatisfied with the process.

8. In addition to complaints, any compliment and comments you receive provide you with an opportunity to learn what is working well, as well as what isn't. It may be appropriate to publicise these to staff so they know what customers want e.g. displaying thank-you letters, promoting service improvements made as a result of complaints.

Conflicts of Interest Code & Guidance

Conflicts of Interest Code

In this Code 'you' refers to individuals and bodies regulated by the CLC; all individuals and bodies regulated by the CLC must comply with this Code. You must not permit anyone else to act or fail to act in such a way as to amount to a breach of this Code.

Outcomes-Focused

The Code of Conduct requires you to deliver the following Outcomes:

- Each Client's best interests are served; (Outcome 3.1)
- Clients* have the information they need to make informed decisions; (Outcome 3.3)
- Clients* are aware of any limitation or any condition resulting from your relationship with another party. (Outcome 3.5)

The prevention, detection and mitigation of conflicts of interests help you deliver these Outcomes and act in a principled manner:

1. Act with Independence and Integrity. (Overriding Principle 1)
2. Act in the best interests of your Clients. (Overriding Principle 3)
3. You keep the interests of the Client paramount (except as required by the law or the CLC's regulatory arrangements). (CoC P3b)
4. You do not act for a Client where you judge it is not in their best interest for you to do so. (CoC 3c)
5. You do not accept instructions from a person nor continue to act for a Client whose interests conflict directly with your own, the entity's, or another Client. (CoC P3d)

You must also comply with the following specific requirements:

6. Where the entity represents parties with different interests in any transaction each party is at all times represented by different Authorised Persons conducting themselves in the matter as though they were members of different entities. (CoC P3n)

7. Before or when accepting instructions to act for a second Client you inform each Client in writing that the body has been asked to act for another Client in the same matter and you explain the relevant issues and risks to them.
8. You only act for both Clients if each Client has provided informed written consent that you may act for another Client in the matter.
9. You do not act, or do not continue to act, for a Client where your ability to give independent advice is in any way restricted. This may arise if:
 - (a) you owe separate duties to act in the best interests of two or more clients in relation to the same or related matters, and those duties conflict, or there is a significant risk that those duties may conflict; or
 - (b) your duty to act in the best interests of any client in relation to a matter conflicts, or there is a significant risk that it may conflict, with your own interests in relation to that or a related matter.
10. If a conflict arises which was or should have been foreseen, you do not charge either Client a fee for the work undertaken (other than for disbursements properly incurred).
11. As an exception to requirement 6, and provided no conflict of interest arises, if you are a body with only one Authorised Person you may act for more than one Client where one of the Clients is a lender providing mortgages in the normal course of its business activities.

Conflicts of Interest Guidance

Assessment of circumstances

1. You should assess all relevant factors to determine if there is a conflict of interest between Clients. For instance, if there is an imbalance in bargaining power between the Clients, or a Client is vulnerable, or their interests are markedly different and cannot be reasonably reconciled.
2. You should assess all relevant factors to determine if there is a conflict of interest between yourself and a client. For instance, if there is a financial interest or a personal or commercial relationship.

Arm's length transactions

3. A body may act for two or more Clients in an arm's length transaction for value where each Client is represented by a different Authorised Person, except where a conflict of interest arises.
 - a) A matter will not generally be regarded as an arm's length transaction where the parties are related by blood, adoption or marriage or in a stable relationship (e.g. a cohabiting couple or the parties otherwise treat each other as family members).

b) The determining factor is not the specific relationship but the existence of any inequality of influence or disproportionate bargaining power which may give rise to a conflict of interest between the Clients.

Conveyancing transactions

4. You must consider carefully whether a conflict of interest arises or is likely to arise when the body receives instructions to act for different Clients in the same matter where the seller is:-
 - (i) a developer or builder; or
 - (ii) a lessor granting a lease

Continuing Professional Development Code

In this Code 'you' refers to individuals and bodies regulated by the CLC; all individuals and bodies regulated by the CLC must comply with this Code. You must not permit anyone else to act or fail to act in such a way as to amount to a breach of this Code.

Outcomes-Focused

The Code of Conduct requires you to deliver the following Outcomes:

- Clients are provided with a high standard of legal service (Outcome 2.1);
- Client matters are dealt with using care, skill and diligence (Outcome 2.2);
- Appropriate arrangements, resources, procedures, skills and commitment are in place to ensure Clients always receive a high standard of service (Outcome 2.3);
- Each client's best interests are served (Outcome 3.1).

Keeping your legal knowledge up-to-date and relevant helps you deliver these Outcomes and requires you to act in a principled manner:

1. Maintain High Standards of Work. (Overriding Principle 2)
2. Act in the Best Interests of your Clients. (Overriding Principle 3)
3. You keep your skills and knowledge up-to-date. (CoC P2b)
4. You ensure all individuals within the entity are competent to do their work. (CoC P2c)
5. You promote ethical practice and compliance with regulatory requirements. (CoC P2g)
6. You only accept instructions and act in relation to matters which are within your professional competence. (CoC P3a)

Dealing with non-Authorised Parties Code and Guidance

Dealing with non-Authorised Parties Code

In this Code 'you' refers to individuals and bodies regulated by the CLC; all individuals and bodies regulated by the CLC must comply with this Code. You must not permit anyone else to act or fail to act in such a way as to amount to a breach of this Code.

Outcomes-Focused

The Code of Conduct requires you to deliver the following Outcomes:

- Clients* receive an honest and lawful service; (Outcome 1.2)
- Clients* are provided with a high standard of legal services; (Outcome 2.1)
- Client* matters are dealt with using care, skills and diligence; (Outcome 2.2)
- Each Client's best interests are served; (Outcome 3.1)
- Clients* are aware of any limitation or any condition resulting from your relationship with another party. (Outcome 3.5)

Demonstrating probity in your dealings with non-Authorised Person parties helps you deliver these Outcomes and act in a principled manner:

1. Maintain High Standards of Work. (Overriding Principle 2)
2. Act in the Best Interests of your Clients. (Overriding Principle 3)
3. You do not conduct yourself in a manner which may result in a breach of the law nor in any other manner which may bring the legal profession into disrepute. (CoC P1c)
4. You do not take unfair advantage of any person, whether or not a Client of the business. (CoC P1l)
5. You promote ethical practice and compliance with regulatory requirements. (CoC P2g)

6. You keep the interests of the Client paramount (except as required by the law or the CLC's regulatory arrangements). (CoC P3b)

You must also comply with the following specific requirements:

7. You do not have dealings with any non-Authorised third person carrying on reserved legal activities including conveyancing (unless there is clear evidence that person is an exempt person (see schedule 3 2007 Act).
8. You report to the CLC (without submitting your transaction file) where a non-Authorised person is carrying on reserved legal activities, including conveyancing, which appears to be or to have been a breach of s.14-16 2007 Act.

Dealing with non-Authorised Parties

9. You :-
 - (a) avoid extending your duty of care to persons who are not clients by seeking to ensure that, to your knowledge, you do not provide legal advice (in the circumstances provided by Hedley Byrne v Heller [1964] AC 465) on which they may seek to rely;
 - (b) do not accept any undertaking which an Unqualified Third Person may offer in the course of a transaction;
 - (c) incorporate special provisions into the draft contract to take account of the problems which arise because the other party has no Authorised Person acting (see below);
 - (d) ensure that any power of attorney is valid, properly granted and effective for all relevant purposes;
 - (e) advise the client in writing that you are dealing with a non-Authorised Person Party and explain all the steps which are being taken to protect the client's position.

Acting for the Lender

10. You do not give the unqualified agent additional assistance in a way which might establish a Authorised Person/client relationship either with the Non-Authorised Person Party or with the borrower, or leave you open to a negligence claim either from your lender client or from the borrower.
 11. You comply with s. 69 Law of Property Act 1925, by allowing mortgage advances to be paid only to those properly entitled to receive them.
 12. You ensure that on completion, any payments are sent to a named bank or building society account held by you, an Authorised Person, licensed body or their clients, and not to some intermediate party.

Dealing with Non-Authorised Parties Guidance

The Effect of s.14-16 Legal Services Act 2007

1. It is an offence for a person who is not an Authorised Person and is not an Exempt Person to carry out Reserved Legal Activities.
2. Where a non-Authorised Person carries out reserved legal activities, the non-Authorised Person's client is likely to be guilty of aiding and abetting the offence. The Authorised Person acting for the other party may also be guilty of procuring the commission of an offence by inviting or urging the non-Authorised person to provide a draft contract or transfer or to progress the transaction.
3. An undertaking offered by a non-authorised third person should not generally be accepted as it is not enforceable in the same way as an undertaking given by you or by another Authorised Person.

Checks

4. You should first check with the CLC, the Law Society or other Approved Regulator whether a person is an Authorised Person entitled to provide reserved instrument activities, as required by paragraphs A3.2 and B3.2 of the CML Handbook, or is otherwise an Exempt Person (schedule 3 2007 Act).
5. If unable to obtain that confirmation you should write immediately:-
 - (a) to the non-Authorised Person:-
 - (i) asking for an explanation why the prohibition under s.14-16 2007 Act does not apply to them; and
 - (ii) stating that in the absence of such explanation you cannot enter into any dealings with him unless there is clear evidence that no offences will be committed. An example of clear evidence would be a letter from an Authorised Person confirming that he will prepare the relevant documents;
 - (b) to your own client explaining why you can not deal with the non-Authorised Person unless clear evidence is forthcoming.

Conveyancing - Acting for the Buyer

6. You should consider the following and, if appropriate, amend the contract:-
 - (a) replies to the Property Information Questionnaire and all other preliminary enquiries and requisitions signed by the seller;
 - (b) the deposit must be paid to you as stakeholder. If the seller will not agree to this, it may be possible to agree to place the deposit in a deposit account in the joint names of you and the seller;
 - (c) either the seller must attend personally at completion, or an authority must be handed over on completion signed by the seller for the purchase money to be paid to his agent. The reason for this is that the protection provided by s. 69 Law of Property Act 1925 only applies when a document containing a receipt for purchase money is handed over by a Recognised Body or solicitor, or the seller himself;

(d) deeds and keys are given to the person entitled to receive them (the buyer). If an authority on behalf of the buyer is offered to you, it is for you to decide whether or not to accept it, bearing in mind that no authority, however expressed, can be irrevocable;

(e) The purchase money, including any deposit, is paid either to the seller or to the seller's properly authorised agent.

Conveyancing - Acting for the Lender

7. You are not obliged to undertake work which would normally be carried out by the borrower's legal adviser (such as drafting and preparation of the instrument of transfer). However, it is essential to the lender client that good title is transferred to the borrower.
8. Compliance with s. 69 Law of Property Act 1925 may mean that you require either that the borrower to attend personally on completion, or that a signed authority from the borrower in favour of his agent is received on completion.
9. On completion, title documents should normally be handed over to the borrower.

Disclosure of Profits & Advantages Code

Transparent referral arrangements help you deliver these Outcomes and act in a principled manner:

1. Act with independence and integrity. (Overriding Principle 1)
2. Maintain high standards of work. (Overriding Principle 2)
3. You do not allow your independence to be compromised. (CoC P1a)
4. You act honestly, professionally and decently. (CoC P1b)

10. Where the entity represents parties with different interests in any transaction each party is at all times represented by different Authorised Persons conducting themselves in the matter as though they were members of different entities. (CoC P3n)

You must also comply with the following specific requirements:

11. When accepting instructions, you inform the Client in writing:-
 - 11.1 of the existence of any arrangement for the introduction of the Client to the body by another person; and
 - 11.2 any sum paid in connection with the introduction, or, if it is not practicable to inform the Client of the exact sum, the maximum sum which may be paid.
12. When introducing a Client to another person you inform the Client in writing:-
 - 12.1 of the existence of any arrangement for the introduction of the Client by the body to another person; and
 - 12.2 any sum received in connection with the introduction, or, if it is not practicable to inform the Client of the exact sum, the maximum sum which may be paid.

Equality Code & Guidance

Equality Code

In this Code 'you' refers to individuals and bodies regulated by the CLC; all individuals and bodies regulated by the CLC must comply with this Code. You must not permit anyone else to act or fail to act in such a way as to amount to a breach of this Code.

Outcomes-Focused

The Code of Conduct requires you to deliver the following Outcomes:

- The service is accessible and responsive to the needs of individual Clients, including those who are vulnerable; (Outcome 6.1)¹
- No-one – Client, employee, colleague, job applicant, employee or other party – you deal with feels discriminated against (whether directly or indirectly), victimised or harassed. (Outcome 6.2)²

Accessible employment and business arrangements help you deliver these Outcomes and requires you to act in a principled manner:

1. Promote Equality of Access & Service. (Principle 6)
2. You comply with relevant Equalities legislation. (CoC P6a)
3. You make reasonable adjustments to prevent persons with disabilities from being placed at substantial disadvantage. (CoC P6b)
4. You provide equal opportunities for all partners, employees or applicants in employment and training. (CoC P6c)
5. You make all reasonable efforts to ensure your service is accessible and responsive to Clients, including those with vulnerabilities. (CoC P6d)

You must also comply with the following specific requirement:

6. Any allegation of (direct or indirect) discrimination, victimisation and harassment is investigated thoroughly, resulting, where appropriate in disciplinary action. (CoC P6i)

knowledge of their legal entitlements. Vulnerability can only be assessed on a case-by-case basis.

² On the grounds of age, disability, gender reassignment, marital and civil partnership status, pregnancy and maternity, race, religion or faith, sex or sexual orientation.

Equality Guidance

This guidance aims to help you deliver these Outcomes by providing you with an overview of the effect of the Equality Act. You should refer to the Act itself in determining what steps are appropriate and reasonable for you to take in meeting the Act's requirements.

Government Equalities Office - Equality Act 2010

Scope of the Equality Act 2010

1. The Equality Act 2010 received Royal assent on 8 April 2010. The Act not only amalgamates existing discrimination law but strengthens the law by:
 - protecting a broader range of characteristics, and
 - extending the duties regarding age, sexual orientation and religion or belief.

Characteristics protected by the Act

2. The Act protects the following characteristics: age, disability, gender reassignment, marriage and civil partnership, pregnancy and maternity, race, religion or belief, sex and sexual orientation:

Age	A person belonging to a particular age group. This applies to both young and older people, though much of the Act's emphasis is upon equality for older people.
Disability	A person has a disability if they have a physical or mental impairment, and the impairment has a substantial and long-term adverse effect on their ability to carry out normal day-to-day activities. This can also apply to a person who has previously had a disability.
Gender reassignment	A person is proposing to undergo, is undergoing or has undergone a process (or part of a process) for the purpose of reassigning the person's sex by changing physiological or other attributes of sex. A transsexual person is a person who has the protected characteristic of gender reassignment.
Marriage and civil partnership	A person who is married or is a civil partner. This does not include someone who is engaged or a divorcee or person whose civil partnership has been dissolved.
Pregnancy & Maternity	This includes any illness the woman may suffer as a result of the pregnancy. Covers the period from when the pregnancy begins to 26 weeks after she has given birth.
Race	Includes colour, nationality and ethnic or national origins.

Religion and Belief	Any religion and includes a lack of religion. Belief means any religious or philosophical (not political) belief and includes a lack of belief.
Sex	A man or a woman.
Sexual orientation	A person's sexual orientation towards— (a) persons of the same sex, (b) persons of the opposite sex, or (c) persons of either sex.

What does this all mean for me?

- 3.1 You must ensure that service delivery and if you are an employer, employment arrangements, provide equality of opportunity and experience for individuals or groups with the protected characteristics.
- 3.2 You must not discriminate, victimise or harass anyone on the basis of the protected characteristics. Terms in contracts, collective agreements or rules of undertakings are unenforceable/void if they result in unlawful discrimination or victimisation. In some circumstances, employers are explicitly liable for harassment by third parties in the workplace.
- 3.3 You are required to make reasonable adjustments to prevent a person with a disability being placed at a substantial disadvantage from someone who does not have a disability. An adjustment can be a one-off, physical, action such as making premises more accessible, or it may be an adjustment which is made on numerous cases, such as visiting a client at home if they are unable to access your premises.
- 3.4 You are not permitted to ask job applicants questions related to health or disability prior to offering a position (unless the questions are made for prescribed relevant reasons).
- 3.5 You cannot discriminate against someone because they are perceived to have, or are associated with someone who has, a protected characteristic e.g. carers. NB. This is bolstered by the concept of 'discrimination arising from disability'.
- 3.6 The enforceability of pay secrecy clauses is limited.
- 3.7 Tribunals are able to make recommendations that will affect all of an employer's staff, not just the claimant.
- 3.8 The Act also repeals or replaces rules of family property law which discriminated between husbands and wives.

What is meant by discrimination, harassment and victimisation?

- 4. This table provides an overview of each term:

Direct discrimination	A person is treated less favourably than another person because of their age, disability, marital status, race, religion or belief, sex, or sexual orientation. Includes less favourable treatment because of the victim's association with someone who has that characteristic (e.g. is disabled), or because the victim is wrongly thought to have it (e.g. a particular religious belief).

Indirect discrimination	A requirement or condition has a disproportionately adverse effect on a particular equalities group and cannot be objectively justified.
Victimisation	A person is treated less favourably than other persons because they have made allegations of discrimination or harassment.
Harassment	A person feels that the behaviour of another has violated their dignity, or created an intimidating, hostile, degrading, humiliating or offensive environment for them.

Reasonable adjustments

- 5.1 You have a duty, wherever reasonable, to remove barriers which would place a disabled person at a substantial disadvantage due to:
- a provision/criterion/practice (PCP) e.g. making information available in an accessible format, such as large print;
 - a physical feature e.g. making premises accessible; or
 - the absence of an auxiliary aid or service e.g. providing special computer software for a disabled employee.
- 5.2 The cost of a reasonable adjustment must be incurred by the business and cannot be passed onto a disabled client by way of a disbursement or additional charge.
- 5.3 The definition of what constitutes 'reasonable' is based upon a 'substantial disadvantage' or 'unreasonably adverse experience' threshold.

Service Provision

6. A provider of services to the public or a section of the public (for payment or not) must not discriminate, harass or victimise a person requiring the service.

Employment Arrangements

- 7.1 Employers must not discriminate, harass or victimise any person in their employment arrangements, offers, terms and opportunities for promotion, transfer or training (or for any other benefit, facility or service).
- 7.2 As an employer you are responsible for the actions of your employees and as a manager you are responsible for the actions of agents.

Partnerships

8. A firm or proposed firm must not discriminate, harass or victimise any person in its partner arrangements, offers, terms and opportunities for promotion, transfer or training (or for any other benefit, facility or service).

Limited liability partnerships (LLP)

9. An LLP or proposed LLP must not discriminate, harass or victimise any person in its partner arrangements, offers, terms and opportunities for promotion, transfer or training (or any other benefit, facility or service).

Ancillary Duties

- 10.1 You must not discriminate or harass where the discrimination or harassment arises out of, or is closely connected with, the end of a service or employment relationship.

- 10.2 You must not instruct, cause, induce or aid another party to contravene their responsibilities under the Act.

Family Law

11. The Equality Act abolishes the presumption of advancement, by which, for example, a husband is presumed to be making a gift to his wife if he transfers property to her, or purchases property in her name.

Human Rights Act 1998

12. You should also be mindful of the Human Rights Act which incorporated the European Convention on Human Rights into English Law. The basic human rights protected by this legislation include:
- the right to liberty;
 - the right to a fair trial;
 - the right to respect for private and family life;
 - freedom of thought, conscience and religion, and freedom to express your beliefs;
 - freedom of expression;
 - freedom of assembly and association; and
 - the right not to be discriminated against in respect of these rights and freedoms.

Enforcement

- 13.1 The CLC will investigate concerns relating to discrimination and disciplinary proceedings will be taken if it is satisfied that there is a case to answer.
- 13.2 Where a court or tribunal decides that you have committed an unlawful act of discrimination that finding will be treated by the CLC as a breach of the Overriding Principle to Promote Equality of Access and Service.

Equality – Example Policy

Introduction

Principle 6 of the CLC Code of Conduct requires you to promote equality of access and service. The Policy template aims to help you comply with that principle. You are not obliged to adopt this approach, but should you implement a written policy, the example provided offers you an idea of the minimum that the CLC considers is likely to be needed for compliance. Should you use the provided example as your starting point it is likely that you would need to amend this policy to ensure that it matches your particular circumstances. The policy you adopt should take into account the number of employees, the nature of your work and your Clients.

Equality & Diversity Policy [Example]

1. Our commitment

We are committed to:

- recognising diversity;
- preventing and tackling unlawful discrimination;
- promoting equality of opportunity for all our clients and staff; and
- providing an equally high standard of service to all clients, irrespective of their age, disability, marital status, race, religion or belief, sex (including people who have had gender reassignment), or sexual orientation;
- making reasonable adjustments so a person with a disability is not placed at a

- substantial disadvantage to a person without a disability;
- all stakeholders and employees complying with the commitments of this policy.

2. We will comply with Principle 6 of the CLC Code of Conduct which requires us to promote equality and diversity, and with the duties of the Equality Act 2010.

3. We will neither enable nor tolerate any of the following:

Direct discrimination	A person is treated less favourably than another person due to their age, disability, marital status, race, religion or belief, sex, or sexual orientation.
Indirect discrimination	A requirement or condition has a disproportionately adverse effect on a particular equalities group and said requirement/condition cannot be justified.
Victimisation	A person is treated less favourably than other persons because they have made allegations of discrimination.
Harassment	A person feels that the behaviour of another has violated their dignity, or created an intimidating, hostile, degrading, humiliating or offensive environment for them.

4. Clients

4.1 We will ensure that no individual client, or a client group, is discriminated against in accessing our services and functions or in the quality of service provided.

4.2 Instructions will not be refused on the basis of unlawful discrimination.

4.3 Our complaints handling-process is responsive to Client's individual needs (particularly those that are vulnerable or have disabilities).

5. Employees

5.1 We will ensure that all partners, employees and applicants have equal employment opportunities. Our recruitment, appointment, appointment terms and conditions, promotion, training and benefits opportunities will not be discriminatory.

6. Policy Implementation & Evaluation

6.1 A senior member of staff is responsible for the implementation of this policy and ensuring all employees are aware of their duties under it, providing training and information as appropriate.

6.2 This member of staff will monitor the extent of compliance with this policy across the organisation. Appropriate data will be collected to inform this review.

6.3 Allegations of discrimination will be investigated under our grievance procedures. We will take such allegations very seriously and where an employee or stakeholder is found not to have complied with the policy we will take disciplinary action against them.

6.4 We will provide training to ensure staff are aware of their responsibilities under this Policy.

- 6.5 This policy will be updated as legislative and regulatory requirements are revised, in light of lessons learned by the business and in view of any good practice identified.

Good Practice

Introduction

1. Equality is about providing everyone with the same level of fairness i.e. an equal chance to contribute and participate. Diversity is about understanding and treating people as individuals i.e. recognising difference.
2. The recognition of diversity and promotion of equality should not be an additional consideration but an intrinsic element of any business as it can bring great benefits and economic advantages - increasing your capacity to serve a diverse client base, offering clients a range of skills sets and attributes, and the opportunity to harness creativity and continuously improve and enhance your reputation as both an employer and a service provider – but it is only when a body’s cultural ethos and structural factors recognise this that these benefits can truly be felt. The following section highlights some principles of good practice that you may wish to consider adopting in order to feel these benefits.

Equality Policy

3. It is important that the implementation and success of an organisation’s Equality & Diversity Policy is systematically monitored, reviewed and evaluated. The policy is only likely to be successful if it is accompanied by a diversity training plan and communications plan which embeds diversity within the organisation’s culture. This may include education provision to ensure senior partners/ managers are aware of the benefits of diversity and providing frontline staff with training to equip them for dealing with the different needs of a diverse range of clients.

Flexible and part-time working

4. Working parents have the right to request flexible working. It is likely to benefit both staff and the needs of the business if flexible and part-time working patterns are available on request to all staff, not just those with child care responsibilities.
5. Arrangements might include four-day weeks or nine-day fortnights, working from home, working hours other than 9 to 5, career breaks, sabbaticals, or longer periods of unpaid leave over the summer months,
6. Provision of such arrangements can help you retain existing staff (who feel that the business allows them to achieve an appropriate work/life balance) as well as recruit new staff (who are drawn to you as an employer who provides such arrangements). It can also enable the business to better meet the needs of clients e.g. open for business at times other than Monday to Friday 09.00-17.00.
7. Provision of such arrangements should be positively promoted. It is important that these working patterns are not equated with lesser commitment, meaning those choosing to work flexibly are penalised for doing so i.e. adoption of flexible working patterns should not adversely impact upon an individual’s career progression – transparent work allocation and promotion procedures will aid this - and terms/targets/ workloads should be rearranged appropriately.

Outreach/mentoring

8. The combination of an outreach programme and provision of formal support networks and mentoring schemes (as opposed to informal mentoring which can cause, or reinforce, diversity-based segmentation and segregation) can help make entry into, and retention and progression within, the legal profession less challenging for those from 'non-traditional' backgrounds. Where such schemes are in place they should be evaluated to determine their effectiveness.

Accreditation Schemes

9. Equality accreditation and organisational assessment schemes - such as those provided by Cornwall Diversity Toolkit, Stonewall Diversity Champions Programme , Job Centre Plus Two Ticks Disability Scheme , the Working Families Charity, Back to Work Company and the jobs recruitment website Where to Work - can assist you in benchmarking your procedures against best practice as well as giving the business external endorsement of its diversity credentials.

Diversity Profile

10. Recording, monitoring and publishing the body's diversity profile will provide potential staff and clients with information on the representative nature of the business and help you identify any under-representation at varying stages of recruitment and career progression, indicating areas where action may be needed to address under-representation.
11. Equality Impact Assess every major activity or policy decision you plan to undertake, enabling you to ensure that in delivering the outcomes you intend does not have an unintended consequence on, or create an unnecessary barrier to, different groups. The local government website gives you an overview of Equality Impact Assessments, but you may wish to develop your own toolkit.

- 13.7 the following wording:-
 "If you make a valid claim against us for a loss arising out of work for which we are legally responsible, and we are unable to meet our liability in full, you may be entitled to claim from the Compensation Fund administered by the Council for Licensed Conveyancers (from whom details can be obtained").
- 13.8 You keep a copy of, and any evidence that the Client has agreed, the estimate and Terms of Engagement on a Durable Medium.

Estimates and Terms of Engagement Guidance

Estimates

1. It is advisable to set out the likely fees to be incurred in an estimate rather than in a quotation since a quotation will be treated as a fixed price contract which cannot be varied notwithstanding any provision in the Terms of Engagement to the contrary.

Terms of Engagement

2. It is good practice for Terms of Engagement to include:
 - authority for you to retain or destroy the contents of a Client's file or transfer the data onto another Durable Medium (see Transaction Files Code & Guidance, paragraph 5 of the Example Approach)
 - The wording suggested at Chapter 8 of Combating Anti Money Laundering and Terrorist Financing Code and Guidance – Example of Wording to be incorporated into the Terms of Engagement.

Management & Supervision Arrangements Code & Guidance

Management & Supervision Arrangements Code

In this Code 'you' refers to individuals and bodies regulated by the CLC; all individuals and bodies regulated by the CLC must comply with this Code. You must not permit anyone else to act or fail to act in such a way as to amount to a breach of this Code.

Outcomes-Focused

The Code of Conduct requires you to deliver the following Outcomes:

- Clients are provided with a high standard of legal services (Outcome 2.1);
- Client matters are dealt with using care, skill and diligence; (Outcome 2.2)
- Appropriate arrangements, resources, procedures, skills and commitment are in place to ensure Clients always receive a high standard of service. (Outcome 2.3)

Appropriate management and supervision arrangements help you deliver these Outcomes and require you to act in a principled manner:

1. Maintain high standards of work. (Overriding Principle 2)
2. You ensure all individuals within the entity are competent to do their work. (CoC P2c)
3. You supervise and regularly check the quality of work in Client matters. (CoC P2d)
4. You systematically identify and mitigate risks to the business and to Clients. (CoC P2f)
5. You promote ethical practice and compliance with regulatory requirements. (CoC P2g)

7. You maintain proper governance, management, supervision, financial and risk management arrangements and controls. (CoC P2i)

10. You make provision for alternative supervision arrangements in case of illness, accident or other unforeseen event. (CoC P2n)
11. You systematically identify, monitor and manage risks to the delivery of this Code's [the Code of Conduct] Outcomes. (CoC P5j)

Management and Supervision Guidance

Supervision arrangements

1. Factors in determining whether the work is being effectively supervised include:-
 - (a) the number of Authorised Persons available to supervise each office;
 - (b) the volume and nature of the work undertaken;
 - (c) the number, competence, training and duties of unqualified staff;
 - (d) arrangements for an Authorised Person to monitor incoming and outgoing communications.
2. The way in which a body's arrangements ensure compliance with the Code of Conduct (and thereby, all regulatory arrangements) is a matter for the individual body. However, each body must be able to show that arrangements are in place and are operating in order to satisfy the CLC it is compliant.
3. Matters to be taken into account in determining whether the management arrangements and systems adopted by the body are appropriate will include its size and management structure; the number, experience and qualifications of staff; and the nature of work undertaken; and the mechanism for periodic review of their effectiveness.

Arrangements - examples of high-level good practice

Business Arrangements

4. Effective supervision and quality assurance procedures are in place across the organisation and include suitably competent and experienced persons regularly checking the quality of work carried out in client matters.
5. Training arrangements enable all employees to maintain a level of competence appropriate to their work and level of responsibility.

6. Recruitment, selection and employment arrangements ensure that the body does not employ an unfit and improper person who could compromise the interests of the public and clients.
7. Compliance policies promote ethical practise, encouraging the body and its staff to act in a way which is compatible with the regulatory requirements.
8. Staff are aware how, and to which named individual, they can raise concerns of non-compliance or wrong doing. They are encouraged and feel able to raise concerns, and are confident these will be acted upon appropriately and they will not be victimised for raising them.
9. There is a clear and effective governance structure and reporting lines.

Risk Management

10. Appropriate arrangements and operating procedures mean that any risks to the achievement of regulatory responsibilities – in particular the delivery of the positive outcomes identified in the Code of Conduct - the best interests of individual clients; assets and money which clients have entrusted to you; business continuity; and the body's financial stability; are systematically identified, monitored, managed and determined efforts made to mitigate the risks presented.

In the event of Absence, Incapacity or Death Guidance

Introduction

1. It is important that you are able to protect your business and its clients in an emergency such as incapacity or death. It is particularly relevant for Sole Practitioners. The guidance below is intended to highlight issues which may arise and to provide possible solutions. However, it is up to you to decide what options best suit your own circumstances and which will enable the business to continue to deliver positive Outcomes for Clients even in exceptional circumstances/an emergency.

Identifying Suitable Attorneys

2. You should appoint a suitable individual as Attorney to manage the business if you are not able to do so. The Attorney should be legally qualified and preferably an Authorised Person. The Attorney should be capable of dealing not only with the affairs of the clients, but also with your personal and business affairs. However, consideration should be given whether to appoint different individuals to manage personal affairs and those of the business.
3. An Attorney must be willing to take on the responsibility for managing the business. In an emergency they must be able to find contact names, addresses and files, obtain details of client ledgers and access the computer systems. You may wish to take account of the following:
 - any arrangement is more likely to be successful if, at the outset, it is reciprocal;
 - it should be kept under regular review;
 - whether your family and any employees should know of the arrangement;
 - whether there should be any specific Indemnity Insurance arrangements;

- if the absence is planned, clients should be told who will be dealing with their matter.

Absence

4. Specific Authority - Arrangements may be made with a bank for named Attorneys to operate specific bank accounts.
5. Power of Attorney - May be of general or specific application.
Each of these forms of authority ceases to have effect when either a donor or their attorney becomes incapable or dies.

Incapacity

6. Lasting Power of Attorney (LPA):
 - the prescribed form should be used;
 - two Attorneys may be appointed jointly or jointly and severally;
 - consider including a clause entitling the Attorney to charge and be paid professional fees for managing the business (Charging Clause);
 - the LPA ceases to be valid on your death or on the death or incapacity of the Attorney.

Death

7. Will/Grant of Probate:
 - the Will should provide for the business to be managed in the short term
 - an Authorised Person should be appointed as Executor; alternatively, power should be given to the Executor to appoint an Authorised Person to manage the business
 - a Charging Clause should be included
 - specific instructions may be included in a “side” document to the Will which can be changed depending on circumstances.

Outcomes-Focused

The Code of Conduct requires you to deliver the following Outcome:

Notification Guidance

1. Provision of adverse information under this Code does not necessarily mean we will withdraw our approval of the relevant individual. Where adverse information is provided it will be discussed with the body to determine the risk posed to the Code of Conduct’s Outcomes; resource implications for the CLC; and the individual/body’s willingness or capacity to address the issue.
2. Examples of what is meant by ‘any other information that could reasonably be expected to have a bearing on their being fit and proper’ under requirement 14 include:

Undertakings Code & Guidance

Undertakings Code

In this Code 'you' refers to individuals and bodies regulated by the CLC; all individuals and bodies regulated by the CLC must comply with this Code. You must not permit anyone else to act or fail to act in such a way as to amount to a breach of this Code.

Outcomes-Focused

The Code of Conduct requires you to deliver the following Outcome:

- Client matters are dealt with using care, skill and diligence. (Outcome 2.2)

Transparency and probity in undertakings helps you deliver these Outcomes and requires you to act in a principled manner:

1. Maintain high standards of work. (Overriding Principle 2)
2. You comply fully with any undertaking given by you. (CoC P2e)
3. You only accept instructions and act in relation to matters which are within your professional competence. (CoC P3a)
4. You keep the interests of the Client paramount (except as required by the law or the CLC's regulatory arrangements). (CoC P3b)

You must also comply with the following specific requirements:

9. You do not breach an undertaking. Only the person entitled to the benefit of the undertaking or the Court may release you/the body from an undertaking.
 10. You do not avoid liability on an undertaking by asserting that to comply with it would be a breach of duty owed to the Client.
 11. Where you have given an undertaking to redeem a mortgage or charge you redeem it immediately following completion of the transaction occasioning the redemption.
 12. In an undertaking to pay money out of the proceeds of sale of a property it is not implied that the undertaking is intended to take effect only if you receive the proceeds of sale.

Undertakings Guidance

Information

1. Neither the CLC nor its disciplinary committees has power to direct the specific performance of an undertaking or to direct the payment of compensation to a third party but the breach of an undertaking may lead to disciplinary proceedings.
2. The CLC will treat a promise to give an undertaking as an undertaking provided the promise sufficiently identifies the terms of the undertaking and provided any prior conditions have been satisfied.
3. Should you incur loss arising directly from a claim based on an undertaking made in the course of practice you may be entitled to an indemnity under the CLC Master Policy or other professional indemnity insurance.

Example Approach

You are not obliged to adopt the approach below. The following are provided only as good practice indicators for those seeking guidance on how to deliver the positive Client Outcomes which the Principle of Maintain High Standards of Work seeks:

1. To ensure that an undertaking is given only by an Authorised Person or other member of staff with authority expressly given on a Durable Medium by the body.
2. To ensure that all staff are aware of the terms of undertakings incorporated by the use of the Law Society's formulae for exchanging contracts by telephone and its code for completion by post.
3. To note on the file and confirm in writing to the other party any agreed variation to undertakings in the Law Society's formulae for exchanging contracts by telephone or its code for completion by post.
4. To note separately the terms of undertakings on file.
5. To give an undertaking only if the Authorised Person or duly authorised member of staff can be absolutely certain that it will be fulfilled.

6. Where making or accepting an undertaking “to pay costs” specify the amount of costs since if no sum is agreed the undertaking may be interpreted as meaning “to pay reasonable costs”.
7. To ensure the wording of an undertaking is unambiguous, since only in exceptional circumstances will extraneous evidence be admitted to clarify an ambiguity;
8. Where an undertaking is dependent on the happening of a future event to notify the recipient immediately if it becomes clear that the event will not occur.
9. To specify both the identity of the lender and the date of each charge it is intended to discharge in reply to any requisitions on title or otherwise.
10. To give an oral undertaking only as a last resort and ensure that it is confirmed in writing as soon as is practicable.
11. To avoid either giving or accepting an undertaking using terms such as “best endeavours” or “reasonable endeavours”: be specific.

18. The Regulated Activities you carry on are not of a description, or relate to an investment of a description, specified in an order made by HM Treasury under section 327(6) FSMA.
19. The Regulated Activities are the only Regulated Activities carried on by the body (other than Regulated Activities in relation to which it is an FSMA Exempt Person).
20. You do not carry on, nor hold the body out as carrying on, a Regulated Service other than one which is permitted by this Code or one in relation to which it is a FSMA Exempt Person.
21. You do not carry on any Insurance Mediation Activity unless the body is included in the Insurance Intermediaries Register.
22. The body and all of its Managers at all times comply with FSMA, secondary legislation made under FSMA and the IMD, so far as they apply to them.
23. The body and all of its Managers comply with the terms and provisions of the CLC's Acting as an Insurance Intermediary Code.

Acting as Insurance Intermediaries

Insurance Intermediaries Register

24. You only act as an insurance intermediary if you are registered on the Financial Services Authority's (FSA) Insurance Intermediaries Register. The CLC is responsible for supplying details of bodies to the FSA.
25. Unless trading as a FSMA Authorised Person, you nominate one of your Managers to be listed on the Register as the main contact, with all correspondence relating to Insurance Intermediary Activities is addressed to that individual.
26. You check that the body is listed on the Insurance Intermediaries Register before conducting any activity covered by paragraph 4 of the Guidance.
27. You inform us within 5 working days of any changes being made to your entry in the FSA's register.

Notifications provided to clients

28. You provide two types of notification on a Durable Medium (eg in writing, by fax or by email):
 - (i) at the outset of instructions (and in any event before the contract of insurance is concluded);
 - (ii) before a contract of insurance is concluded

Notes:

- a) Some of the provisions are unlikely to vary from one matter to another and can be provided in standard terms.
 - b) A clear statement of the basis a particular product has been chosen must be made.
 - c) The CLC understands there are relatively few providers of Title Indemnity Policies. It is unlikely therefore that any advice on products can be given on the basis of a fair analysis. It is much more likely they will be made from a limited number of insurance undertakings or a single insurance undertaking.
- (iii) information may be provided orally if the Client requires it or if immediate cover is required. To comply with Distance Marketing Regulations that information must be provided on a Durable Medium as soon as possible.

Passporting

29. If you wish to establish a branch or provide Insurance Mediation Activities in another EC State you complete the FSMA passporting process (FSMA, paragraph 21, part IV, schedule 3).
30. You do not provide Insurance Mediation Activities in another EC state unless you have given the FSA the necessary notice of the body's intention to do so.

Terms & Information Provision

Providing Regulated Activities (including acting as an Insurance Intermediary)

31. All information under paragraphs 32 and 33 must be provided in a way which is fair, clear and not misleading, no less prominent than any other information provided to the Client at the same time and in English or in any other language agreed by the you and the Client.
32. Before providing Regulated Activities, you provide the following information on a Durable Medium to the client:
 - 32.1 the name, address, telephone and other contact details;
 - 32.2 if not included in 32.1, the names of the managers;
 - 32.3 the name of the individual having day-to-day conduct of the matter and where applicable the name of the individual responsible for its overall supervision;
 - 32.4 if the matter is to be conducted by a team, the identity of that team and the name of its leader(s);
 - 32.5 the name of the individual to whom any complaint should be made;
 - 32.6 an explanation of the procedure to be adopted where the Client is dissatisfied with the services received or conduct delivered; this must include the name and address of the CLC and the Legal Ombudsman (see further information provided in the CLC's Complaints Code and Guidance).
 - 32.7 the following wording:-

“If you make a valid claim against us for a loss arising out of work for which we are legally responsible, and we are unable to meet our liability in full, you may be entitled to claim from the Compensation Fund administered by the Council For Licensed Conveyancers (from whom details can be obtained”).

“[this firm is/we are] not authorised by the Financial Services Authority. However, we are included in the register maintained by the Financial Services Authority so that we can carry on Insurance Mediation Activities, which is broadly advising on, selling and administration of insurance contracts. This part of our business, including arrangements for complaints or redress if something goes wrong, is regulated by the Council for Licensed Conveyancers. The register can be accessed via the Financial Services Authority website at ‘www.FSA.gov.uk/”.

33. Before concluding any contract of insurance, or the renewal or the amendment of a contract of insurance, you provide the Client with the following information, if you have not already done so, on a Durable Medium:-

33.1 whether the body has any holding, direct or indirect, representing more than 10% of the voting rights or of the capital in an insurance undertaking;

33.2 whether an insurance undertaking or parent of any insurance undertaking has a holding, direct or indirect, representing more than 10% of the voting rights or of the capital in the body;

33.3 whether the body has given or will give advice:-

33.3.1 on the basis of a fair analysis of the market; or

33.3.2 from a limited number of insurance undertakings; or

33.3.3 from a single insurance undertaking;

33.4 if paragraph 33.3.2 or 33.3.3 applies you must disclose whether the body is contractually obliged to conduct Insurance Mediation Activity in this way;

33.5 if the contract of insurance has not been selected on the basis of a fair analysis of the market that the Client can ask for a copy of the list of insurance undertakings from which the body selects or with which it deals in relation to the contract provided;

33.6 based on the information provided by the Client, a statement, reflecting the complexity of the contract proposed:-

33.7.1 sets out the Client's demands and needs;

33.7.2 confirms whether or not advice on the contract has been given to the Client;

33.7.3 explains the reasons for giving advice on the contract where such advice is given to the Client.

34. You may provide the information at paragraphs 32 and/or 33 orally only if:
- 34.1 the Client requests it; or
 - 34.2 the Client requires immediate cover but in both cases you must provide the information on a Durable Medium immediately after the conclusion of the contract.
35. When informing the Client that advice is given on the basis of a fair analysis, in accordance with paragraph 33.3.1, you must:
- 35.1 give advice on the basis of an analysis of a sufficiently large number of insurance contracts available on the market, to enable it to make a recommendation, in accordance with professional criteria, as to which insurance contract would be adequate to meet the Client's needs; and
 - 35.2 explain to the Client that it has done so.

Accounting to the Client

36. You account to the Client for any pecuniary award or other advantage received by you from a person other than your Client arising out of you carrying on a Regulated Activity (s.327(3) FSMA).

Other

37. Where appropriate you refer, and if appropriate, take legal advice on the effect of IMD, FSMA, secondary legislation, and the Guidance (set out below).

Acting as Insurance Intermediaries Guidance

Legislative Background

1. The Insurance Mediation Directive (2002/92/EC) requires that arrangers or sellers of insurance products be regulated. Generally providers must be regulated by the FSA (known as FSMA Authorised Persons). There is a limited exception for professionals, whose regulatory body is a Designated Professional Body under Part XX of FSMA. This exemption regime is designed to exclude professional firms which are not carrying on mainstream financial services activities from the requirement to be authorised by the FSA.
2. Any body wishing to provide Regulated Activities (to include insurance services) other than as permitted by the CLC or, as appointed agent for an insurer, may only do so if regulated by the FSA.
3. The CLC is itself regulated by the FSA and must comply with directions it is given.
4. With the agreement of the FSA, the Council has resolved "In accordance with requirement 14 of the 'CLC Designated Professional Bodies Code' each CLC Body is permitted to carry out all insurance activities incidental to Regulated Services provided by that body to any Client including (without limiting the generality of this Resolution) Abortive Costs Indemnity Insurance, Household and Estate Property Insurance, Term Policies for IHT, Missing Beneficiary insurance, Deposit Guarantee Insurance and Title Indemnity Policies relating in particular to Restrictive Covenants, Absence of Easements, Insolvency Acts, Registered Possessory Titles, Lost Title Deeds, Missing Particulars (Registered Titles), Good Leasehold, Absent Landlords, Missing Rent-charge Owners, Flat/Maisonette Indemnities, Flying Freeholds, Search Indemnities, Absence of Deeds of Postponement on Right to Buy Transactions, Defective Leases, Contingent Buildings Insurance, Forfeiture of Leases (Mortgagees only), Superior Leases, Lease Enlargements, Planning Permissions, Building Regulations and Endorsements, Chancel Liability and Contaminated Land.”

5. The term “arrange” is wide ranging and includes helping a Client to complete a proposal form.
6. This Code is drafted so that the range of products covered by the CLC’s regulatory arrangements may be extended by resolution of the CLC with the agreement of the FSA.

Incidental

7. The Regulated Activities you provide must be incidental in two senses:-
 - (i) In the provision of a particular Regulated Service to a particular Client, you must carry on only Regulated Services which arise out of, or are complementary to, the provision by the body of that Regulated Service to that Client (s.332(4) FSMA and requirement 14); and
 - (ii) Any service provided in the course of carrying on a Regulated Service must be incidental to the Professional Services you provide (s.327(4) FSMA and requirement 17).
 - (a) The FSA considers that to satisfy the condition in s.327(4) FSMA Regulated Activities cannot be a major part of the body’s practice.
 - (b) The FSA also considers the following further factors to be relevant:
 - (1) the scale of Regulated Activity in proportion to other Professional Services provided;
 - (2) whether and to what extent services that are Regulated Activities are held out as separate services; and
 - (3) the impression the body gives, for example, through its advertising or other promotions of its services, as to how Regulated Activities are provided;
 - (c) In the FSA’s opinion, one consequence of this is that a body cannot provide services which are Regulated Activities if they amount to a separate business conducted in isolation from the provision of Professional Services. This does not, however, preclude it from operating its professional business in a way which involves separate teams or departments, one of which handles the Regulated Activities.
 - (d) For the purpose of s.327(4), Professional Services are services which do not constitute carrying on a Regulated Service, and the provision of which is supervised and regulated by a Designated Professional Body, such as the CLC (s.327(8) FSMA and Glossary of Terms)
Example: when acting for the buyer of a property you may arrange a missing landlord indemnity policy on behalf of that buyer. You may not arrange that same policy to a different client as a stand alone product.

Accounts to

9. The FSA considers that, in order for a Client to be accounted to for the purposes of s.327(3) FSMA, you must treat any commission or other pecuniary benefit received from third parties and which results from Regulated Activities carried on by the body, as held to the order of the Client. You will not be accounting to the Client simply by telling them that you receive commission. Unless the client agrees to you keeping it, the commission belongs to them and must be paid to them. There is no de minimis below which you may retain the sum. In the FSA's opinion, the condition would be satisfied if you pay over to the Client any third party payment received. Otherwise, it would be satisfied by informing the Client of the payment received and advising the Client that they have the right to require the body to pay them the sum concerned. This could then be used to offset fees due from the Client in respect of Professional Services provided or in recognition of other services provided. However, it does not permit retention of third party payments by seeking the Client's agreement through standard terms and conditions. Similarly, a mere notification to the Client that a particular sum has been received coupled with your request to retain it does not satisfy the condition.

Enforcement:

Restrictions

10. Where the FSA makes orders affecting individual bodies, the CLC may withdraw permission.

Disciplinary Steps

11. Where a body is in breach of the Code the CLC, may:-
- (i) impose a condition on a licence; or
 - (ii) take disciplinary proceedings against the body and its Manager or Head of Finance and Administration;
 - iii) withdraw its permission.

& Guidance

Acting for Lenders and Prevention & Detection of Mortgage Fraud Code

In this Code 'you' refers to individuals and bodies regulated by the CLC; all individuals and bodies providing conveyancing services regulated by the CLC must comply with this Code. You must not permit anyone else to act or fail to act in such a way as to amount to a breach of this Code.

Outcomes-Focused

The Code of Conduct requires you to deliver the following Outcomes:

- Clients receive an honest and lawful service; (Outcome 1.2)
- Clients money is kept separately and safely; (Outcome 1.3)
- Client matters are dealt with using care, skills and diligence; (Outcome 2.2)
- Appropriate arrangements, resources, procedures, skills and commitment are in place to ensure Clients always receive a high standard of service; (Outcome 2.3)
- Clients' affairs are treated confidentially (except as required or permitted by law or with the Client's consent). (Outcome 3.6)

Prevention and detection of mortgage fraud and acting properly in the interests of lenders helps you deliver these Outcomes and requires you to act in a principled manner:

1. Act with Independence and Integrity. (Overriding Principle 1)
2. Maintain High Standards of Work. (Overriding Principle 2)
3. Act in the best interests of your Clients. (Overriding Principle 3)
4. You systematically identify and mitigate risks to the business and to Clients. (CoC P2f)

5. You promote ethical practice and compliance with regulatory requirements. (CoC P2g)
6. You enable staff to raise concerns which are acted on appropriately. (CoC P2h)
7. You maintain proper governance, management, supervision, financial and risk management arrangements and controls. (CoC P2i)
8. You keep the interests of the Client paramount (except as required by the law or the CLC's regulatory arrangements). (CoC P3b)
9. You disclose client information only as you have been instructed (or as required by the CLC's regulatory arrangements or by law), keeping effective records of any disclosures you make. (CoC P3e)

You must also comply with the following specific requirements:

Part A – Acting for Lenders

10. When acting for a Lender, you take all necessary steps to ensure that the conveyancing services provided by it do not fall below the reasonably competent standard which should be expected.
11. You take all relevant steps to comply with the general and particular mortgage instructions contained in the current edition of Parts 1 & 2 of the Lenders' Handbook for England & Wales issued by the Council of Mortgage Lenders ("the CML Handbook").
12. If you suspect a client of not being completely honest or transparent about any element of a proposed mortgage transaction, you must consider whether you should continue to act for the Lender and/or the Client.
13. You do not disclose confidential information to the Lender after you have ceased to act for a Client.

Identity of the Client

14. You establish and obtain proof of the identity of Clients in line with the requirements of the CML Handbook and the Money Laundering Regulations ("the Regulations"). You must advise the Lender if a Borrower Client is unable, reluctant or unwilling to provide this verification.
15. Any system or product you use must be sufficiently robust to provide the necessary degree of certainty and include data from a range of sources, across time and incorporate qualitative checks that assess the strength of the information supplied. Your evidence base and level of verification must be composite and comprehensive.

Identity of the Property

16. You are certain you have correctly identified the property which is to be mortgaged and that the documents of title with which you have been presented accurately relate to and reflect that property, particularly where its name or its boundaries or other significant features have been changed.

Transactions

17. In registered title property transactions, you obtain Official Copies of the title and a copy of the Official Plan produced by the Land Registry.
18. You do not complete a mortgage transaction without first obtaining the results of Land Registry, Land Charges or Company Searches, as appropriate.
19. You carry out a Bankruptcy Search (which must be current at completion) in the registered names of and any other names used by a Borrower or by which he is otherwise known.
 - 19.1 Where an entry is revealed against the name of the Borrower (or the mortgagor or guarantor) you must certify that the entry does not relate to the Borrower (or the mortgagor or guarantor) if you are able to do so from your own knowledge or enquiries; or if, after obtaining office copy entries or making other enquiries of the Official Receiver, you are unable to certify that the entry does not relate to the borrower (or the mortgagor or guarantor) you make a report to the Lender.
 - 19.2 You obtain clear bankruptcy searches against all parties to any deed of gift or transaction at an apparent undervalue (paragraph 5.15.4 CML Handbook).
20. You complete a mortgage for a registered title and the application for registration at the Land Registry lodged before the end of the priority period provided by the Land Registry Search. Any search application to create a fresh priority must be made in sufficient time before the expiry of the existing priority period to enable a substantive application to be lodged within the appropriate period if another "hostile" application is revealed.
21. You complete a mortgage over an unregistered title within the priority period provided by the Land Charges Searches. You register your application with the Land Registry within 2 months of the date of completion.
22. Where the Borrower is a Company you register the charge at Companies House within 21 days (a period which may only be extended by order of the Court).
23. When acting for a Seller or Buyer, Official Copies and Official Plan you must check no additional charges have been registered.
24. When acting for a Seller, you check the Title Entries on receipt from the Land Registry (and before issue to the Buyer's conveyancer) to ensure that any additional charges are noted and addressed at the outset. This will avoid causing problems in discharging undertakings.

Mortgage Redemption

25. To ensure compliance with the CLC's Undertakings Code and with Clause 17 of Part 1 of the CML Handbook, you:-
 - 25.1 ask a client at the outset of any sale or remortgage transaction whether there are any mortgages secured against the property and, if so, obtain details (including relevant mortgage account numbers);

- 25.2 specifically ask those clients whether, in addition to the principal mortgage account, they have any other loans with different account numbers with the same Lender (which may be secured against the property) or any other mortgages with any other Lenders and, if so, obtain details (including relevant mortgage account numbers);
- 25.3 request an illustrative redemption statement from the Lender at the outset of the transaction giving details of mortgage account numbers, and verify the outstanding amount(s) shown on those statements with your clients;
- 25.4 when obtaining either an illustrative or a final redemption figure from a Lender, request a statement of the total amount required to redeem all loans and monies secured by the Lender's charge over the property. Failure to ask for details of all loans and monies secured by the Lender may mean that the redemption figure will only relate to those accounts where details have been provided;
- 25.5 ensure any discharge undertaking given specifies both the identity of the lender and the date of each charge it is intended to discharge in reply to any requisitions on title or otherwise.

Mortgage Instructions

- 26. You:-
 - 26.1 check the Lender's mortgage offer and instructions carefully and ensure that that they match the details of the transaction exactly or otherwise report any discrepancies to the Lender, having first obtained instructions from his Borrower client so to do or, if the client refuses to consent, to cease acting for the Lender;
 - 26.2 question and clarify any unusual or uncertain instructions before proceeding;
 - 26.3 cease to act for the Lender if his interests or the interests of anyone working within your body or the interests of the Borrower come into conflict with those of the Lender; and
 - 26.4 comply with Part B - the Mortgage Fraud Code.

Part B - Mortgage Fraud

- 27. You immediately cease to act for a client in any circumstances where you are aware or suspect that the client is attempting to perpetrate fraud. If you decide to terminate the retainer, you must observe Principle 3 g) of the Code of Conduct unless to do so would constitute a "tipping off" offence under the Proceeds of Crime Act 2002 or the Terrorism Act 2000.
- 28. You maintain your duty of confidentiality to your client after ceasing to act for that client except where:
 - a. a court orders such matters to be disclosed,
 - b. a warrant permits a police officer or other authority to seize confidential documents, or
 - c. there is compelling evidence that the client was using its services to further a criminal or fraudulent purpose, in which case disclosure should be made to the police.

29. In acting in the best interests of the Lender you may be required to pass on or report information to the Lender. Where the Borrower client declines consent to its disclosure, a conflict of interest will arise between the duty of confidentiality to the Borrower client and the duty to act in the best interests of the Lender. You must therefore cease to act for the Lender (and consider carefully whether you can continue to act for the Buyer).

Identity of the Client and Client's Circumstances

30. You:-
- 30.1 establish the client's identity in line with the CLC's Anti-Money Laundering Code and the current Money Laundering Regulations, obtaining proof of that identity to establish that a client is who he says he is and that he lives at the address given;
- 30.2 advise the Lender if, in any case, a client is unable, reluctant or unwilling to provide this verification;
- 30.3 identify all the other owners of the property and other persons who might have an interest in or rights over the property (if any) and ensure that the client's current co-owner/partner is, where applicable, the co-owner/partner referred to on the title of the property;
- 30.4 obtain confirmation of instructions direct from the client (and from all other interested parties) wherever possible, particularly where he or they communicate through an intermediary and
- (i) obtain detailed instructions ;
 - (ii) satisfy itself that the client is not subject to duress or undue influence and
 - (iii) satisfy itself that the client is entering into the transaction knowingly;
- 30.5 be satisfied that the client's economic position, wealth and lifestyle correspond with the mortgage that he is proposing to enter into and there are no facts which suggest the potential for mortgage fraud (e.g. that he has not overstated his income in the mortgage application or that he does not have substantial arrears on an existing mortgage account); and
- 30.6 check all signatures to reduce any risk of forgery of the signatures of other interested parties (e.g. a husband who forges his wife's signature).

Linked Transactions

31. Having obtained the client's instructions to do so, you notify the Lender of any sub-sale or back-to-back element in any transaction and ensure you have the Lender's written consent before proceeding. If the client refuses to consent to that disclosure, you cease acting for the client and the Lender.

Identity of the other lawyers

32. You check the identity of the Licensed Conveyancers or Solicitors acting for the other party by reference to the CLC or the Records Department of the Law Society of England & Wales respectively.

Proceeds of Sale

33. You pay particular attention to instructions given for the distribution of the net proceeds of a sale or remortgage:
 - 33.1 If the property or the mortgage is held in joint names, the net proceeds of sale must be sent to an account in the joint names of all clients or a cheque must be written to all parties jointly.
 - 33.2 The net proceeds are sent to all the parties except as otherwise instructed by all the parties in writing.

Variations in Price, Incentives and other Material Considerations

34. When acting for a Buyer and a Lender, you, with the client's consent, notify a Lender immediately where:-
 - 34.1 there is an alteration to the purchase price or the details are different from the details set out in the mortgage offer (other than as permitted by the Lender).
 - 34.2 you become aware of any other information which you would reasonably expect the Lender to consider important in deciding whether, or on what terms, it would make the mortgage advance available to the Buyer.
35. You do not complete the mortgage until the Lender has confirmed that it is happy to proceed and, if applicable, the terms upon which it is willing so to do.
36. You establish and maintain proper systems, procedures, processes and internal controls for approval of Certificates of Title prior to submission to the Lender.
37. You remain mindful of your duty to act in the best interests of the Lender as your client.

General

38. You do not witness any signature unless the person signing does so in your presence. You ensure that any signed document which has been witnessed other than by a conveyancer has been properly signed in the presence of a witness.
39. You verify the signatures of clients (and any other interested parties) on all documents connected with a transaction.

Warning Signs

40. You question the probity of unusual instructions and are particularly circumspect if any one or more of the circumstances set out in the "Summary of Warning Signs" Guidelines apply to a transaction where you are acting

Acting for Lenders Guidance

Checking Identity by Documentary Means

1. The identity of a Borrower can be verified by checking their identity against appropriate original documents provided to you which appear to be authentic, are current and, where applicable, have been signed in the relevant place. A document or a series of documents meeting the expectations contained in Clause 3.1.6 of Part 1 of the CML Handbook is likely to satisfy the Lender's requirements.
2. Care must always be taken to ensure that the extent of the evidence seen will also meet responsibilities for client identity verification under the Regulations and the expectations contained in the CLC's Anti-Money Laundering and Combating Terrorist Financing Code.
3. Clause 3.2 of Part 1 of the CML Handbook prescribes requirements for safeguards and identity checks.

Checking Identity by Electronic Means

4. You must obtain "satisfactory evidence of identity", which must be reasonably capable of establishing (and does in fact establish to the satisfaction of the person who obtains it) that the potential client is the person he claims to be. The CLC considers verification of identity by appropriate electronic means to be acceptable, though urges caution. Electronic evidence obtained should provide you with a strong level of certainty that any individual is the person they claim to be and that a person of that name lives at the address given using the client's full name, address and date of birth as its basis.
5. Any system or product used must be sufficiently robust to provide the necessary degree of certainty. Data accessed from a single source (e.g. the Electoral Roll) will not normally be sufficient on its own. Some databases will offer a higher degree of confidence than others.
6. Before using a commercial agency for electronic verification, you must be satisfied that:-
 - 6.1 the information supplied by the data provider is considered to be sufficiently extensive, reliable and accurate; and
 - 6.2 the agency has processes which allow its users to capture and store the information that they have used to verify an identity.
7. The process should be cumulative and you may consider it appropriate to seek additional evidence (e.g. a copy of a document bearing a signature and a date of birth) in all cases or, at least, where any client poses a higher risk of identity fraud, money laundering or terrorist financing, or where the result of any electronic verification check gives rise to concern or uncertainty over the client's identity.
8. You may wish to consider whether the provider meets each of the following criteria, namely that it:-

- 8.1 is recognised to store personal data through registration with the Information Commissioner's Office;
 - 8.2 uses a range of positive information sources that can be called upon to link an applicant to both current and previous circumstances;
 - 8.3 accesses negative information sources such as databases relating to identity fraud and deceased persons;
 - 8.4 accesses a wide range of alert data sources; and
 - 8.5 has transparent processes that enable you to know what checks were carried out, what the results of these checks were and what they mean in terms of how much certainty they give as to the identity of the subject of the identity enquiry.
9. Data from more robust sources where inclusion is based on proof of identity (such as government departments) ought to be included (under paragraph 8.2). Negative information checks (under paragraph 8.3) minimise the risk of impersonation fraud.
10. It is also important for:-
- 10.1 the process of electronic verification to meet a standard level of confirmation before it can be relied on. In circumstances which do not give rise to concern or uncertainty, the standard level would be expected to be:
 - (i) one match on an individual's full name and current address and
 - (ii) a second match on an individual's full name and either his current address or his date of birth.
 If the result of a standard verification check gives rise to concern or uncertainty over the client's identity, the number of matches required to provide reasonable satisfaction as to his identity should increase.
 - 10.2 You should ensure you understand the basis of the system you use in order to be satisfied that the sources of the underlying data reflect the CLC's requirements and cumulatively meet the standard level of confirmation set out above as commercial agencies use various methods of displaying results (e.g. by the number of documents checked or through scoring mechanisms, etc).

Transactional Considerations

- 11.1 For a registered title, the date from which the Land Registry search should be made is the date of issue of the Official Copies supplied or obtained at the outset of the transaction and the search should be made in the registered name of the Lender (and not its trading name) to avoid any conflict of priorities.
- 11.2 For unregistered land, searches must be made against all names and any variations on those names on the title documentation and, where an address has changed, a search should be made against any former address and/or counties.
- 11.3 For unregistered land, an Index Map Search must always be undertaken to ensure that the extent of the land to be conveyed is consistent with the title documentation and the Borrower's understanding.

12. In unregistered title property transactions, it is good practice both when acting for a Seller or a Buyer to make a Land Charges Search at the outset of the transaction to ascertain any entries details of which have not been supplied by the clients or are not revealed in the Abstract or Epitome of Title.

Mortgage Fraud Guidance

1. Mortgage fraud may be perpetrated by one or more participants in a mortgage loan transaction, including the Borrower, or by multiple parties (a mortgage fraud ring) working dishonestly together (and often in a professional capacity).
2. Mortgage fraud is a criminal offence which can often result in imprisonment on conviction. Some conveyancers have been caught up unwittingly in a mortgage fraud, not because of any wilfully fraudulent acts on their part but because they have failed to act in accordance with this Code, neglecting to check all details of the transaction and failing where appropriate to report to the Lender for whom they are also acting. They have not appreciated that the circumstances of the transaction might lead to or give rise to fraud.
3. Proceeds of mortgage fraud are criminal property. A conveyancer who assists in such a fraud will facilitate the acquisition, retention, use or control of criminal property contrary to s.328 of the Proceeds of Crime Act 2002. He may also aid and abet a fraud or be complicit in a conspiracy to defraud.
4. Mortgage fraud is likely to require a report to be made to the Serious Organised Crime Agency.
5. Any attempt to deceive a Lender may expose you to civil action (e.g. breach of contract, breach of trust or negligence) and/or to disciplinary proceedings.

Linked Parties

6. You should always exercise caution if:-
 - 6.1 there appear to be links between a Buyer and Seller; or
 - 6.2 you are acting for both parties; or
 - 6.3 the Seller is a private company or the Seller has recently purchased from a private company and the names and addresses of the officers and shareholders of the company appear to be connected with the transaction, the Seller or Buyer.

Concerns of variations

7. It is in your interests to check whether:-
 - 7.1 the contract papers have incomplete or missing dates, incorrect descriptions or any sections (particularly the price) which have been left blank;
 - 7.2 the price shown in the Contract and Transfer documentation differs from the amount actually being paid for the property;

- 7.3 any fixtures and fittings included in the purchase price materially reduce the value of the property;
- 7.4 the Seller is offering the Buyer any incentive(s) to buy the property unless these clearly fall within a Part 2 CML Handbook dispensation given by the Lender concerned;
- 7.5 any allowances are made or any other sum is being set-off against the money payable by the Buyer to the Seller (e.g. for repairs to the property):
- 7.6 the Buyer proposes to pay or has apparently paid a deposit direct to the Seller (except for a nominal reservation fee); or
- 7.7 there is anything else that affects the price of the property or the amount actually being paid for the property, however small.
8. It is not advisable for you to determine whether any change is material. With your client's consent, you should make a report to the Lender. It is good practice to advise clients at an early stage that
 - (i) it would be regarded as fraud to misrepresent the purchase price or the existence of any incentives and inducements; and
 - (ii) you have a duty to inform a Lender of the true or underlying price actually being paid for a property.
9. It is good practice to include a term in the Terms of Engagement permitting the disclosure to Lenders of material facts relating to the property and the Borrower client.

Acting in the best interests of the Lender client

10. In the event of the circumstances detailed in paragraph 7 your safest course of action may be to cease to act for both the Lender and the Borrower client.
11. Where you cease to act for the Lender in such circumstances, you should return the mortgage instructions to the Lender merely stating that they are returned because of a conflict of interests (without giving any further explanation).

Valuations

12. It is good practice to check any valuation supplied by the Lender to check it is not:
 - 12.1 higher than the actual price being paid for the property or higher than might be expected for a property of that type in the location in which it is situated; or
 - 12.2 considerably higher than the price paid for the property on any earlier sale or disposal within the last 12 months, taking into account any subsequent inflation or deflation in property prices since the date of that sale or disposal.
13. You are not a valuation expert and cannot be expected to advise on the accuracy of a valuation. Nevertheless, a valuation which is patently out of line with the apparent value of a property may be a ground for a suspicion of fraud, particularly where there is a possibility or risk of complicity between prospective Borrowers and Valuers.

Verifications of Signatures

14. This can be done by examination and comparison with signatures on any other available documentation.

Summary of Warning Signs

15. The list of circumstances outlined is not exhaustive but is provided as a guideline.

Remote Client	Where a client is introduced by a third party (e.g. a mortgage broker or an estate agent) who is not well known to the Licensed Conveyancer or the Recognised or Licensed Body. Where a potential client wishing to instruct the body for the first time does not live locally to it and has not been introduced by someone known to it and there is no obvious reason why they should place their instructions with it. Where a client will be using the services of the body for the first time and persuades it to accept instructions from the other party, or the other party instructs the body.
Secretive Client	Client declines to be met or come to the office and/or uses an intermediary to communicate with the body and/or asks the body to contact him at his business or another address rather than at his home address. Client shares an address with one or more other parties to the transaction. You suspect that a client is not being completely honest or transparent about any element of a proposed mortgage transaction.
Nominee Buyers	Instructions to purchase in or transfer a property into the name or names of nominees.
Fictitious conveyancer	A person claiming to be an Authorised Person is not registered with the relevant Approved Regulator
Unusual instructions	Instructions from a Seller to remit the net proceeds of a transaction to someone other than the Seller. Any instructions from a Buyer or Seller which do not correspond with the normal type of instructions you would expect to receive during the course of a standard residential or commercial conveyancing transaction.
Transactions which do not	Any transaction which is unusual insofar as it does not follow their normal course or a usual pattern of events	follow the normal course or pattern of a standard residential or commercial property transaction.

Misrepresentation of the purchase price	The actual and true cash price to be paid is not the stated consideration in the contract and transfer and/or the price shown in the mortgage instructions and in the Certificate of Title submitted to the Lender.
Change to the purchase price	Adjustments to the purchase price, particularly in high percentage mortgage cases, or allowances off the purchase price, for example, for alleged works to be carried out.
A deposit or any part of a purchase price paid direct	A deposit or the difference between the mortgage advance and the price is paid direct or said to have been paid direct, to the Seller.
Incomplete Contract Documentation	Contract documents are not fully completed by the Seller's representative, i.e. dates missing or the identity of the parties are not fully described or financial details are not fully stated.
Linked Parties Sale at an inflated price Roll-Over Fraud & Sub-sales	Sale at an inflated price to an individual by a company or other entity controlled or owned by him which may be a device designed to raise additional finance for the company or other entity and be linked to larger-scale frauds involving tax, improvement grants, etc. Sale by a Borrower to an associate] at an inflated price (known as roll-over fraud) to enable the associate to obtain a higher mortgage. No repayments are made under the mortgage and before the Lender is able to repossess the property, it is sold to another associate for a higher price, and so on. A Buyer at one price instructs his conveyancer that he will be selling on to a third party at a higher price where the Sub-Buyer is either one and the same person as the Buyer or an associated person where the Seller may or may not also be a party to the fraud. The Sub-Buyer third party obtains a mortgage based on the sub-sale price and secures an immediate profit. The balance between the original sale price and the higher sub-sale price is never paid or is said to be paid by the Buyer to the Sub-buyer or is allegedly set-off by the Buyer against money owed to him by the Sub-Buyer. These transactions often feature a simultaneous exchange of contracts followed by a quick completion, leaving the Lender left with a property worth the original sale-price as security for a much higher loan.

	A derivative of this fraud occurs where a Seller grants a lease to a Buyer at a ground rent and the Buyer then assigns the lease to a Sub-Buyer at a premium to provide the Sub-Buyer with a legal interest over which he can then obtain a mortgage.

Transaction Files Code
& Guidance

Transaction Files Code

In this Code 'you' refers to individuals and bodies regulated by the CLC; all individuals and bodies regulated by the CLC must comply with this Code. You must not permit anyone else to act or fail to act in such a way as to amount to a breach of this Code.

Outcomes-Focused

The Code of Conduct requires you to deliver the following Outcomes:

- Each Client's best interests are served; (Outcome 3.1)
- Clients' affairs are treated confidentially (except as required or permitted by law or with the Client's consent). (Outcome 3.6)

Appropriate standards of document provision help you deliver these Outcomes and require you to act in a principled manner:

1. Act in the best interests of your Clients. (Overriding Principle 3)
2. You disclose client information only as the Client has instructed (or as required by the CLC's regulatory arrangements or by law), keeping effective records of any disclosure you make. (CoC OP3e)

You must also comply with the following specific requirements:

File

3. When a request for a transaction file, or part of it, is made on behalf of a Client, lender or third party you must determine the ownership of the various papers in the file and provide the person making the request only with the documents they own or are entitled to, or entitled to only with the Client's permission.
4. Where the Client's permission is required you must not provide the papers to the person making the request until you have obtained the Client's consent or been served with a court order in appropriate terms.

Joint retainers – joint Clients

5. Originals are handed to one Client only with the consent of the other Client.

6. You provide each Client with a copy without charge.
7. You release copies to third parties only with the consent of all Clients.

Joint retainers –Client and lender

8. You may charge a lender for a copy of a document if you require the borrower Client's consent to provide the lender with a copy.

Retention of file contents

9. You retain the contents of files relating to all matters for a minimum of six years, except those relating to:
 - other conveyancing matters (other than the sale of property) for a minimum of fifteen years
 - wills for a minimum of six years after the testator has died, and
 - probate matters for a minimum of six years from the end of the executor's year.
10. Consideration should be given on a case by case basis as to the appropriate date of destructions for the contents of files relating to:
 - deeds of gift
 - gifts of land
 - transfers at an undervalue
 - right to buy where funds came from someone other than the purchasing tenant(s)
 - lifetime gifts.

Transaction Files Guidance

1. Transaction files generally contain a mixture of papers and documents some of which belong to the Client and some to the body. In addition there may be other papers and documents which belong to another Client, for example a lender.
2. Documents that belong to the Client:
 - a) Those documents you have prepared for the benefit of the Client and which have been paid for by the Client either directly or indirectly, including:-
 - most attendance notes;
 - drafts;
 - copies made for the Client's benefit of letters received by the Licensed Conveyancer or body;
 - copies of letters you've written to third parties contained in the Client's file and used for the Client's business, for example letters to banks, lenders, witnesses or potential witnesses.
This does not include copies of letters written to the Client which you may keep.
 - b) Those documents prepared by a third party during the course of a matter and sent to you (other than those sent to you at the body's expense). Examples are receipts and vouchers for disbursements made by or on behalf of the Client and letters received by the body from third parties.

- c) In the case of joint Clients these documents belong to the Clients jointly.
 - d) In most cases it is not necessary to deliver up original documents. However:
 - some documents (such as Wills and Deeds) only have effect on production of the original; and
 - questions about the authenticity of a document may in some instances only be determined on production of the original.
3. Documents that belong to you:
- a) Those documents prepared by the body for its own benefit or protection, the preparation and production of which is not charged to the Client. They include:
 - copies of Communications written to the Client;
 - copies of Communications received by the body;
 - office journals;
 - computerised records;
 - copies of Communications to third parties but only if they are contained in a filing system of all Communications written in the office;
 - tape recordings of conversations;
 - entries in diaries;
 - time sheets;
 - books of account;
 - inter office Communications;
 - b) Those documents sent to the body by the Client, the property of which was intended at the date of despatch to pass from the Client to you, including letters, authorities, and instructions written or given to you by the Client.
4. Where you acted for two or more clients and a request for the file or part of it is made by one of the clients (eg a lender), you should determine the ownership of the various papers in accordance with paragraphs 2 and 3 above. For example, in a conveyancing transaction there may be documents which:-
- Belong to the lender alone including the lender's instructions to the body, certificate of title and correspondence between you and the lender. The original may be released but a copy should be retained.
 - Belong to the borrower Client, but which the lender is nevertheless entitled to see, as they relate to that part of the work where the lender and borrower can be said to have a common interest, such as deducing title. Examples are the contract, transfer and search certificates.
 - Belong to the borrower Client that the lender is not entitled to see without the consent of the borrower Client (and for which a copying charge may be made).

Example Approach

You are not obliged to adopt the approach below. The following are provided only as good practice considerations:

1. To make a copy (without charge) for your own benefit of any documents released.
2. Where documents are requested with a view to a claim being made against you (in addition to your regulatory responsibility to notify insurers of the circumstances) you should :
 - not make any admission of liability;
 - deal with the matter in accordance with instructions issued by or on behalf of the insurers.
3. Where a file or information from a Client file is requested by a third party (such as the Police, HM Revenue and Customs or Trustee in Bankruptcy) to satisfy yourself (by the production of legal authority, preferably a court order) that the party making the request is legally entitled to the documents and information requested.
4. Where you intend to charge for copying documents (other than where any copying is made for your own benefit) you make a reasonable charge.
5. It is in your interests to ensure that the relevant Terms of Engagement authorise you:
 - to retain or destroy the contents of a Client's file or transfer the data onto another Durable Medium, since you may be liable for any loss incurred if the contents of a file are destroyed without the Client's consent; and
 - to provide copies (rather than originals) of documents requested unless the production of the document (such as a Will) is required for the document to have legal effect.

Destruction of file contents

6. After the relevant minimum retention period (identified at 9 & 10), and provided you have the Client's authority, you review the file to decide whether it may be safely destroyed. You might consider retaining separately and for a longer period the authority from the Client.
7. If the matter involved a mortgage, then it is likely you will want to take into account any specific requirements of the particular lender.

Other

Enforcement Policy

Introduction

This policy explains how the CLC identifies and responds to non-compliance with its regulatory requirements - as identified in the Code of Conduct and other regulatory arrangements. It seeks to provide the regulated community and other stakeholders with guidance on examples of regulatory breaches, how the CLC identifies these non-compliance issues and the framework within which it will respond to these. Its aim is to encourage appropriate conduct and deter inappropriate behaviour so that clients receive the standard of legal services that they should reasonably expect to receive.

The CLC's Code of Conduct requires those we regulate to comply with its Overriding Principles to:

- act with independence and integrity;
- maintain high standards of work;
- act in the best interests of their clients;
- comply with your duty to the court;
- deal with regulators and ombudsmen in an open and co-operative way;
- promote equality of access and services;

in order that positive Outcomes are delivered, particularly for Clients.

The vast majority of the CLC's regulated community act in a way which is consistent with these principles. However, where this is not the case, we will take enforcement measures. We aim to deliver effective, fair and consistent risk-based regulation. Our approach to enforcement will be targeted particularly on those areas we judge to most threaten the regulatory objectives through the risk they pose to the delivery of positive outcomes, particularly for clients.

Depending upon the nature of the matter our approach may be to seek informal resolution or may involve regulatory action. The CLC will, wherever possible, try to achieve an informal resolution, to provide a more timely and satisfactory outcome for clients and saving both the resources of the licensee and the CLC. We will engage in dialogue with the respondent, encouraging good practice through guidance and support.

Where an informal approach has been unsuccessful or is not judged appropriate because of the actual (or perceived risk of) detriment to clients, the CLC will initiate the disciplinary powers available.

All enforcement processes will be exercised in a way which is transparent, accountable, consistent, proportionate and targeted in keeping with the Regulator's Compliance Code and the Legal Services Act 2007.

1. What is meant by Enforcement?

1.1 We must ensure the regulated community meets the needs of clients by complying with both the law and our regulatory requirements. Where they fail in these responsibilities we will hold them to account. Actions taken to encourage compliant behaviour or to punish non-compliance are known as enforcement. Enforcement action will be based upon reliable evidence, clear standards and the ability to appeal enforcement decisions. It is our aim that our enforcement approach is helpful, open, accountable and transparent. Our enforcement activities will be proportionate, consistent and targeted at cases where action is needed. This does not mean that less serious breaches will go unchecked, it means they will receive a proportionate response so that less serious breaches do not receive the same penalties as more serious or repeated breaches.

1.2 The enforcement tool applied in a matter will be proportionate to the risks identified to the regulatory objectives in the form of a threat to the delivery of the positive outcomes identified in our Code of Conduct, due to non-compliance with our regulatory arrangements.

1.3 Regulation and enforcement will be proportionate and flexible enough to encourage economic progress within the regulated community. We will not seek to cause unnecessary expense to an individual; any penalty imposed will be fair.

1.4 We will check to see that any agreed course of action is implemented. Where it is not, we will take formal enforcement action.

2. Scope of the CLC's Enforcement Powers

2.1 We may take enforcement action against:

- CLC Bodies;
- licensed conveyancers; and
- Owners, Managers and employees of CLC Bodies.

2.2 In this Policy we use the term "respondent" to refer to any of those listed at 2.1 and "the regulated community" to refer to all of those listed at 2.1.

2.3 Information sources - information on possible breaches of regulatory responsibilities is obtained from a number of sources, including:

- A body proactively admitting non-compliance by act or omission – all bodies we regulate must advise us if they are failing to comply with the CLC's regulatory arrangements. We will support those who alert us to their failings. We are unlikely to take formal disciplinary action as long as clients are not at risk and the entity is addressing the failures identified in a reasonable way;
- Information from stakeholders, including complaints from clients or information from lenders, police and findings of other regulatory or professional bodies etc;
- Overall regulatory risk profile according to the CLC's risk register. The register holds a range of regulatory information including CLC inspection findings, complaints, Accounting Reports information and negligence claims.

- 2.4 Regulatory breaches – The following are examples of allegations of breaches which may lead to enforcement proceedings (this list is not exhaustive and is not ranked):
- Persons no longer 'fit and proper';
 - Failures in governance arrangements;
 - Fraud and dishonesty;
 - Improper influence;
 - Failure to comply with the CLC's regulatory arrangements;
 - Ineffective complaints-handling procedures;
 - Failure to provide the CLC with information, or provision of false, incomplete or misleading information;
 - Failure to pay any CLC annual fee or contribution.
- 2.5 Risk - We take a risk-based approach to regulation. That means that in determining what (if any) action to take when non-compliance is brought to our attention we will determine the impact that risk is likely to have on the Overriding Principles and the Outcomes they seek. We will take into account some or all of the following:
- the seriousness of the act or omission and the likely or actual impact on an individual client, clients in general and the regulated community;
 - the intended outcome for clients in taking action compared with the impact of not taking action;
 - the effect the particular breach is likely to have on:
 - the reputation of the rest of the profession; and
 - public confidence in those services and on the CLC's Regulatory Arrangements;
 - the extent to which the act or omission is a one-off occurrence or is part of a series of similar matters or appears to be deliberate or vexatious;
 - the period of time over which the act or omission has occurred;
 - management competence and willingness to comply;
 - the existence of good systems for managing risks;
 - evidence of recognised external accreditation;
 - whether the resource requirements needed are proportionate to achieving the desired results; and
 - any other matters that it appears appropriate to take into account.
- 2.6 Decision-making – enforcement decisions taken by the CLC will be informed by all available, relevant and reliable evidence, and will be based upon criteria published on our website. Decisions will be taken on the evidence applying the 'balance of probabilities' standard, except where a criminal act (including fraud or dishonesty) is alleged in which case the standard applied will be 'beyond reasonable doubt'. Account will be taken of the impact on clients, the impact on the respondent and the reliability of the available evidence. The respondent will be afforded the opportunity to reply; we will be open to the individual/body providing fresh evidence not previously available, or to them proposing a compliance remedy. Enforcement decisions made will be regularly and systematically scrutinised to ensure that criteria are being consistently applied.

- 2.7 Review/appeal of decisions - the respondent may ask for any decision to be reviewed by the Adjudication Panel. The respondent will also be entitled to appeal. Depending on the nature of the decision made, and who makes it, the appeal may be heard by the Discipline and Appeals Committee, the High Court, the First Tier Tribunal or the Upper Chamber (see Table at 3.3.1). In the case of informal, regulatory or disciplinary action taken by CLC staff the matter will be referred to their line manager or another Director (with no prior involvement in the matter) who will review the decision. All requests for review or appeal must be made within 28 days of the determination.
- 2.8 Decision-makers – all staff with delegated powers and all members of the Adjudication Panel and the Discipline & Appeals Committee receive training to ensure that decisions are made consistently and to assist in the determination of appropriate sanctions. The Committees are made up of lay members and members of the regulated community.
- 2.9 Matters which may be excluded – Other than in exceptional circumstances, we do not generally investigate these issues:
- Conduct which does not relate to the provision of legal services regulated by the CLC;
 - Disputes between an employer and employee;
 - Partnership disputes, unless the interests of clients are adversely affected or there is a finding of a court or tribunal;
 - Non-payment of fees incurred in the course of providing services regulated by the CLC, unless there is a judgment against the regulated person for non-payment relating to their legal practice;
 - Allegations from lending institutions of a failure to hand over deeds or papers to which the lender is entitled, unless the lender has already made a successful application to the court;
 - An isolated report of misconduct from a regulated person about a licensed conveyancer or CLC body, unless there is an allegation of serious misconduct, or it is made on the instructions of a client, or is made to protect the interests of an identifiable client who has an interest in the outcome;
 - Allegations of misconduct made more than six months after the alleged misconduct could reasonably have come to light;
 - Where there is a clear alternative legal remedy available which has not yet been pursued.
- Allegations of discrimination or dishonesty are not excluded.

3. Enforcement Tools

3.1 Enforcement can take many forms. The framework for responding to issues of non-compliance varies, depending on the identified risk, from the informal to the application of the CLC's statutory powers.

3.2 Informal/Regulatory Action Approach – delegated powers of CLC staff:

Enforcement tool	Authority	Review of Decision
An Undertaking on terms agreed with the CLC to take or cease taking a particular action	CLC staff: Legal Practice Inspector,	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Director of Operations • Director of Policy & Standards,

3.3 Approach using statutory powers in AJA and LSA

4. Enforcement Process

- 4.1 Informal approach – in the event of the CLC becoming aware that a member of its regulated community may have failed to comply with our standards, we shall carry out an informal inquiry to enable us to decide whether there is a case which requires further investigation. If we are satisfied there is not an issue no action will be taken. If there is judged to be an issue but it is less serious, we will take informal action and offer advice, support and guidance to help address the issue.
- 4.2 Regulatory action - If we are satisfied further investigation is required, the support offered has not been accepted, or the individual/body commits relatively minor breaches on a regular basis and fails to respond to our informal resolution approaches, we shall consider whether it is likely that the case can be resolved by regulatory action. We may direct the licensed conveyancer or body to provide information to assure us that that their regulatory requirements are being complied with. This may be in a written report or may require the respondent to attend the CLC's offices to explain how the issues identified will be resolved and the steps needed to ensure they do not recur.
- 4.3 Dependent on the circumstances of the individual case, we may take the view that the Outcomes can best be delivered by agreeing with the regulated person the terms of an undertaking to provide information, to take specific action or to cease taking a specific action. Failure to comply with the undertaking will in itself be a breach of the CLC's regulatory arrangements which will lead to an investigation, and possibly disciplinary proceedings.
- 4.4 Disciplinary action - disciplinary proceedings may be initiated where steps taken under paragraphs 4.1-4.3 have failed to achieve the intended outcome, or it is not appropriate because of the actual or likely impact on a client, or clients, or because of the serious nature of the issue. Decisions will be informed by all available, relevant and reliable evidence. Decisions will be based on the application of published guidelines or criteria set out in the Enforcement Policy. The respondent will be afforded the opportunity to make oral and/or written representations to the Committee.
- 4.5 The CLC may:
- require a regulated entity to provide specific information;
 - authorise an inspection of a body;
 - refer the matter to the CLC Authorised Officer.
- 4.6 Having carried out a preliminary assessment the CLC Authorised Officer may:

- (a) certify that where the complaint referred to them is appropriate for summary determination, and in either case giving reasons in writing:
 - i) direct that the respondent pay a penalty not exceeding £1,000 in respect of each allegation made; or
 - ii) dismiss the complaint; or
- (b) refer the case to the Adjudication Panel, alternatively to the Discipline and Appeals Committee for hearing and determination.

4.7 The Adjudication Panel will decide which of the following options is appropriate to the case:

- a) to dismiss the allegation;
- b) to hear and determine the allegation;
- c) for the allegation to be heard by the Discipline and Appeals Committee because it is satisfied that the nature of the allegation, if proved, is likely to justify either the imposition of a penalty in excess of £50,000 or some other sanction which the Adjudication Panel does not have power to impose.

4.8 If the Adjudication Panel decides to determine the case itself it will do so in accordance with its Procedure Rules [\[link\]](#) and will make a determination consistent with its Guidance [\[link\]](#). If it is satisfied the allegations have been proved the Adjudication Panel may direct:

- the payment of a fine of up to £50,000; and
- costs (which may include costs incurred in the preliminary investigation of the allegation).

4.9 A respondent may appeal against a determination of the Adjudication Panel to the Discipline and Appeals Committee; or where a matter has been referred to it and an allegation has been proved to its satisfaction, the Discipline and Appeals Committee may make one or more of the following orders against:

7. Continuing Professional Development requirements will be allocated to each licence in order that the CLC is confident that training relevant to the licence is acquired.
8. The CLC will undertake monitoring of the quality of CPD provision through a randomised annual audit of a statistically significant number of course suppliers.

This monitoring will help inform our risk assessment of the individual/body.
